ONE LONE MAN PUT TO ROUT FIVE ROBBERS

Single Handed, Engineer Bly Is Victorious in Battle with Masked Men.

ONE ROBBER IS KILLED AND TWO ARE WOUNDED

Brave Engineer Was Himself Wounded Early in the Action, but He Kept Shooting Straight, Dropping the Masked Bandits.

Williamsport, Pa., October 2.—Five masked and desperate burglars made a bold attempt to rob the safe of the Montoursville Passenger Railway Company early this morning. In a terrific battle with revolvers, which followed the attempt, one of the desperadoes was killed and two others slightly wounded by Engineer Alem Bly, who was shot twice by the robbers.

Shortly before 2 o'clock, while Engineer Alem Bly was at work in the power house of the Montoursville Passenger Railway Company, he was startled by a terrific crash, caused by the front door of the building being battered in with a heavy plank. Bly rushed to a closet which contained his revolver, and when he turned to face the intruders he was met with a fusilade of shots from the revolvers in the hands of five men, who had the lower part of their faces covered with handkerchiefs. One of the shots struck Bly in the hip and another made a flesh wound in the thigh. The wounds did not disable him, however, and he leveled his revolver and fired at one of the burglars, who was several feet in advance of the others. The bullet pierced the heart of the desperado and he fell dead.

The engineer kept firing at the rest of the gang, who kept up a continuous fire. Two of them were slightly wounded. After his revolver had been emptied Bly retreated through a rear door and ran to a nearby factory and aroused the watchman, who sounded an alarm by blowing the factory whistle. While Bly was absent the robbers dragged the body of their dead companion outside the building, where they left it and fled. Up to a late hour tonight no trace of them had been found.

Robbers Bluffed the Town.

Minden, Nebr., October 2.—The safe in the bank at Norman, 8 miles southeast of this place, was blown open by robbers early today. The robbers, four in number, secured about $1,000 in cash and terrorized the town.

Many persons saw them at work, and had to stand by helpless, for the robbers were well armed and threatened to kill any one who interfered.

STUDENTS ROUT POLICEMEN.

Lively Scrimmage on Campus of University of Minnesota.

Minneapolis, October 2.—Three park policemen and a plain-clothes man ran afoul the students of the University of Minnesota this morning and came out of the fray ingloriously worsted. The difficulty arose out of an attempt to arrest the students who rode bicycles on the walk along the street through the campus over which the park board has jurisdiction. Yesterday the students rescued one of their number who was arrested and drove the policeman off.

This morning Superintendent Berry sent four men to assert the board's authority. The students promptly hustled three of them off the campus and loaded them onto passing street cars. The plain clothes man was tied to a tree with a garden hose. The officers displayed their revolvers and threatened to shoot, but the students refused to take the threat seriously.

LET TRUSTS ALONE AND TIME WILL DEAL THEM DEADLY BLOWS

So Dolliver Says, Discussing 'Iowa Idea' Before League of the Republican Clubs.

Chicago, October 2.—The "Iowa idea" came to the surface tonight at a mass meeting under the auspices of the National League of Republican Clubs, which met in annual convention here today. United States Senator J. P. Dolliver, of Iowa, was responsible. Interest became intense when it was realized by the delegates to the convention and spectators that they were being treated to the first public speech on the subject by a national leader of the party since the Iowa republican state convention. Mr. Dolliver said in part:

"Let us look at the Iowa idea for a moment, and I select that only because I am more familiar with it and because circumstances have arisen to give it a universal advertisement. It has been presented to the country as the sudden impulse of dissatisfied mischief-makers within the republican party. On the other hand, it is the mature judgment of a man whose wisdom has never failed the republican party in the forty years of his uninterrupted public service.

"It is evident that, even if it were desirable to kill the trusts, it could not be done by merely remitting the duties which their foreign competitors pay at our custom houses. Even Mr. Bryan, who talks of putting the captains of industry into a chaingang and sending J. Pierpont Morgan first to the poor house and then to the penitentiary, admits freely that free trade falls very far short of the object he has in view. Nearly every sober student of the subject admits that it was the pressure of competition which has drawn some of our industries first into groups and then into gigantic combinations under a single corporate management. A successful attempt to repeal the law of competition in the American market place would be speedily fatal to the protective tariff system, because the whole design of that system rests upon the unimpaired vitality of that law.

"Before anybody makes up his mind that the so-called American trust is a permanent institution, let him consider the long list of ambitious combinations which have already had their affairs wound up by the courts of justice. The alcohol trust, the linseed oil trust, the alkali trust, the asphalt trust, the bicycle trust, and scores of others whose very names are now even forgotten. What was the matter with these astonishing creations of the promoter's art? Nine out of ten of them were bogus, and, without stretching the law very much, could have been denied the use of the mails on an ordinary fraud order. Only yesterday one of the mammoth establishments, the National Salt Company, had a little business before a court of equity in New Jersey. The organization of that trust in 1889 was looked upon everywhere as a step in the direction of monopolizing the necessaries of life.

"The more I examine the old law of competition, the better it looks to me. If the duty of settlement has already come to so many of these once formidable institutions, how has it fared with those which have so far survived the test? Already the evidence is accumulating from which the doom of the trusts can be foretold, even the most solvent and best managed of them all. The figures of the census show that neither in the mercantile nor manufacturing world has the small dealer, who owns his business and gives it his personal attention, anything to fear in competition with the overgrowth and top-heavy investments of capital that surround him.

"There is no room in this discussion for vain exclamations of alarm and de-... Up to this time the tariff policy to which we owe the prosperous conditions which now surround us has been the ally of independent capital in its grapple with the modern trust system; but if the day should ever come when the productive energies of the American people are impotent in the presence of monopoly, the protection which for more than a generation our laws have given to all our industries alike is not likely to remain to enrich such a conspiracy of avarice and greed."

Tolstoi's Home in Peril.

St. Petersburg, October 2.—Tolstoi's home at Yasnaia Polian, in the government of Toula, had a narrow escape from being totally destroyed by fire September 23. The upper part of the house was destroyed.

SENATOR DOLLIVER.

RISQUE DANCES WILL BE BARRED

Miss Helen Gould Will Keep Coochie-Coochie Away from St. Louis.

St. Louis, October 2.—At the meeting of the board of lady managers of the world's fair today the resolution presented by Miss Helen M. Gould expressing the sentiment that the Louisiana Purchase exposition would favor a high moral tone throughout and eliminate from the concessions any that savors of the dances performed on the Midway of the Chicago fair, was adopted.

The board was notified by President Francis, of the world's fair, that a site had been granted the lady managers which they may utilize as they see fit.

GRAND ARMY VETS ARRIVE.

All Ready for the Encampment at Washington.

Price of Refined Sugar Reduced.

Washington, October 2.—The first of the veterans from outside who are to attend the Grand Army encampment arrived here today, and it is expected that from this time until the beginning of the encampment exercises the arrivals will continue. General Torrance and his staff are expected tomorrow.

The commander in chief will find the city quite prepared to receive himself and his comrades. Within the last twenty-four hours hundreds of flags, big and ..le, have been unfurled along the principal streets.

Pennsylvania avenue, along which the veterans will march, is tonight quite completely lined with the national colors, and many other streets also present a patriotic aspect. The attendance is expected to be very large. Many tents, including a number of corps and army headquarters tents, have been erected on the ellipse south of the white house. Among these is an immense hospital tent, which was dedicated today.

HALL CAINE'S "ETERNAL CITY."

Play Is Enthusiastically Received by a London Audience.

London, October 2.—The much debated dramatization of Hall Caine's "Eternal City" was produced at His Majesty's theater tonight before an immense audience, which included many persons prominent in the artistic and theatrical world. The play met with an unexpectedly enthusiastic reception, due more to its superb mounting and the fine acting of the company than to the intrinsic merits of the piece itself.

The adaptation from the novel, which was skilfully done, evaded many of the anticipated pitfalls incident to presenting a religious play which is strongly melodramatic. The production was weak in parts, yet it had some effective dramatic moments and some beautiful and interesting stage pictures, especially the scene in the vatican gardens.

Beerbohm Tree had a fine part as Baron Bonelli, while Constance Collier, as Roma, Nancy Price as Princess Bellini, Robert Tabor as Rossa, Brandon Thomas as the Pope, and Lionel Brough as Bruno Rocco, were all excellent. Mascagni's incidental music greatly enhanced the enjoyment of the evening. At the conclusion of the piece, Mr. Tree recived a curtain call and thanked the audience for its enthusiastic reception.

DOLLAR DIET WAS SERVED FOR COUNCIL

Startling Evidence Given at the Trial of Banker Snyder for Bribery.

THOUSANDS WERE PAID TO SECURE FRANCHISE

Any Old Bill in Which Snyder Was Interested Was Good for a Bunch of Money—Ed Buttler Involved by the Testimony.

St. Louis, October 2.—In the trial of Robert M. Snyder, the banker and promoter, charged with bribery in connection with the passage of the Central traction bill, the state's case was practically submitted today. Startling testimony was elicited to the effect that large sums of money had been freely distributed in securing votes for the bill.

Probably the most startling testimony of the day was from George J. Kobusch, president of the St. Louis Car Company. He said that he was the man who interested Snyder in the Central traction bill; that he dealt with the councilman through Edgar A. Mephan and that he sent money through Mephan, and that Mephan was to be paid $25,000 for his services.

He has named some of the men who got the money—Carroll, $17,250; Gaus, $10,000; Gast, $10,000, or at the general rate of $10,000 a head.

Frederick M. Uthoff also unbosomed himself with rather a little confusion, yet he named large sums of money with directness, specifying who paid and who was paid.

Details of the Trial.

When Judge Ryan's court met today the trial of Robert M. Snyder, banker and promoter, on the charge of bribery in connection with the passage of the Central Traction bill, was resumed. Frederick G. Uthoff, who was a member of the city council in April, 1898, was put on the stand by the state.

In answer to questions put by Circuit Attorney Folk, Uthoff testified that while a member of the city council in 1898, when the North and South Traction bills were pending, Robert M. Snyder called on him at his residence, having been taken there by Louis Dieckmann, by appointment. Uthoff continued:

"After talking socially about half an hour Snyder spoke of the Central Traction bill. I told him I did not want to talk about the matter. He said we were both Masons and we could discuss it the same as lodge matters. He said I ought to favor him with his bill.

"I told him I had been approached and offered $50,000 for my vote. 'I will get that amount and send it by Dieckmann,' said Snyder to me."

Witness said Dieckmann brought the package next day.

Willing To Give $100,000.

Uthoff said he next saw Snyder at the Planters hotel. At this meeting Snyder talked of the Central Traction bill and also of a gas bill. Uthoff said Snyder told witness that if he would introduce this gas bill as a "rider" to the Central Traction bill and work for its passage as well as vote for the Central Traction bill he would give witness $100,000.

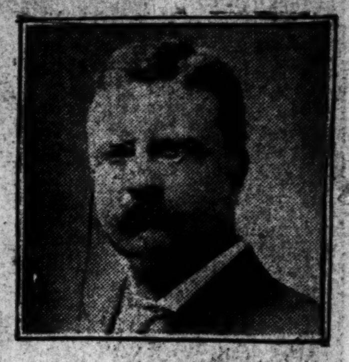

"He said he would give me $60,000 next day," Uthoff explained, $15,000 when the gas bill was introduced and $25,000 when the gas bill was passed.

"Then Snyder took up two handsful of bills," witness stated, and said, 'Uthoff, here is $25,000. Dieckmann is on the floor of the council with $10,000. I would have had $60,000 for you, but Charlie Carroll got $15,000 from me today.'"

Uthoff said he refused to take any of

TAKE TARIFF OFF COAL TO DOWN COAL COMBINE

BOSTON. October 2.—Congressman Samuel W. McCall was renominated in the eighth district republican convention at Somerville today. In his speech of acceptance, Mr. McCall said:

"I believe a special session of congress should be called to make a law allowing coal to come into this country free of duty from any place. It is just as sensible to tax a ship load of food as to tax coal at the present time. I do not believe it would really interfere with protection to remove the duty from coal."

LABOR IN ARMS AT NEW ORLEANS

Street Railway Employees in Fight to a Finish.

New Orleans, October 2.—After four days wasted in useless parleying between the street car men and street railway company, through the mayor as intermediary, all negotiations came to a positive end tonight and t...rrow will witness a determined ef...t to run cars and the usual consequences. At half-past 7 o'clock tonight the car men's executive committee adjourned until tomorrow morning, after announcing that it would make no reply to the last communication of the railway company.

The railway company announces that it is ready to run cars and has refrained from making the attempt pending the outcome of the negotiations.

When negotiations closed at 2 o'clock this morning the car men had submitted a new proposition to go to work on the basis of 25 cents an hour and eight hours, and in the meantime the alleged violations of the old agreement would be arbitrated. If it was found that it had been violated, then the men were to be paid according to the proposed new agreement. If not, then they would work out the old contract until March 31.

Will Attempt To Start Cars.

The railway company forwarded its reply to this proposition at 2 o'clock this afternoon. This embodied the proposition agreed to by both sides yesterday (but which the car men backed down from), and concluded with the statement that unless an agreement was reached on these lines before 6 p. m. the company would consider the matter finally closed and immediately proceed to engage new men and operate the cars.

The mayor sent this letter to the car men's committee and the only r...ult was an announcement that they would not reply. The mayor has gone to his home, the car men's committee has adjourned for the night and the railway company is preparing to start a number of cars tomorrow morning. It is not believed that they have secured any outside labor, because pickets of car men have been at every railroad depot ever since the strike has been on, and they have not seen any arrivals. They say that they are expecting some over the Southern Pacific from Houston, but this is doubted.

Nine cars with United States mail signs were run over the several routes today for the accommodation of the letter carriers and were not molested. It was announced that passengers would be taken on these cars, but when several passengers started to get on one on Canal street, the conductor abandoned the car and was received with cheers by the crowd of strikers gathered at the corner of Exchange alley. A clerk of the company discovered the abandoned car a few minutes after, and took it to the postoffice and thence to the barn, where a new crew was obtained.

Wires Cut.

A crowd of strikers amused themselves by moving all the switches on Canal street, and at one place a switch was found jammed with a large iron nut. A car ran over it, but did not leave the track. The big feed wires of the Carrollton line were cut during the night on Carrollton avenue near Cambronne street. There was no other violence during the day.

Henry A. Reid, a striking motorman, was arrested today by Captain Cooper, charged with assaulting Policeman D'Ayala, who was on a Coliseum car Monday near the Arabella barn when it was attacked by strikers and he was dangerously wounded in the face by a brick. Thomas White, another striker, wanted for cutting a trolley rope in the same assault, surrendered. The policeman is recovering.

The preliminary hearing of the sixteen men arrested on federal warrants on Monday for interfering with mail cars was postponed until next Tuesday by United States Commissioner Craig, to enable the officials of the union to participate in conferences.

FOR ONE DOLLAR THOUSANDS QUIT

Twenty-Five Hundred Miners on Strike in Alabama.

Birmingham, Ala., October 2.—In pursuance of resolutions adopted last night by the executive board of Alabama district No. 2, United Mine Workers, 1,800 men were called out of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company's mine in the Pratt division today. This makes 2,500 men idle on the Tennessee Company's rolls, 300 at No. 3 Pratt and 400 at West Pratt having quit a week or more ago.

The question at issue is the discussion of a $1 assessment from the miners' wages for the benefit of the anthracite strikers, the Tennessee company refusing to make the deduction without a signed warrant from each man.

A mass meeting of the Sloss Sheffield Company's men was held today and addresses were made by National Board Member Fairley and District President Flynn. Out of 1,300 miners employed by this company about 900 were present, and it is said a large majority voted in favor of deducting the assessment. A committee was appointed to see the members who have declined to pay the assessment with the object of whipping them into line.

As soon as the canvass is made the matter will be laid before President Maben and if he refuses to deduct the assessment from all the miners' wages a strike at that company will be precipitated.

President Bacon, of the Tennessee company, declined to be interviewed today. He left for New York this afternoon.

President Cassatt, of the Pennsylvania railroad, who received a special invitation from President Roosevelt to attend tomorrow's coal conference, was a visitor at J. P. Morgan's office today.

"I have not yet decided to accept the president's invitation," said Mr. Cassatt, "but I expect to make up my mind later in the day."

Mr. Morgan and his representatives talked with some of the leading operators today. It is understood that certain memoranda have been prepared and will be submitted to the president at tomorrow's conference.

Philadelphia, October 2.—The coal presidents arrived here at 6:20 p. m. President Baer, of the Reading company, joined the party here. To this point the train consisted of a passenger coach and the private car Atlas. Here the coach was taken off and President Baer's private car Philadelphia was attached. The special train left here at 6:25 o'clock, running as the second section of the Royal limited express over the Baltimore and Ohio road under orders to run slow.

PARSON QUIETS ANGRY WOMEN

Temperance Dames of Virginia Allow Their Passions To Rise.

Richmond, Va., October 2.—(Special.)—So bitter became the strife among members of the state convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, in session in the Christian Church here today, that the pastor, Rev. Carey E. Morgan, was forced to interfere.

"This is the house of God, ladies," he said. "The sacrament of the Lord's Supper is administered here, and it shall not be the scene of such bickerings."

The trouble arose between two factions of the body, composed, respectively, of the young and the old members. The young women accused the old members of misappropriation of money and false representations. When the pastor took a hand half were in tears and the other half hysterical. The convention vindicated the old officers by reelecteding them by an overwhelming vote after Rev. Dr. Morgan had prayed for peace and harmony.

NEGROES KICK ON THE STAKE

Federation of Civic Rights Issues an Address in Regard to Lynchings.

New Albany, Ind., October 2.—The National Federation of Civic Rights, an association incorporated under the laws of Indiana, the object of which is the amelioration of the condition and for the protection of the colored race, has issued an appeal to the people of the United States. The document was prepared by a committee, headed by Bishop George W. Clinton, of North Carolina. The address says:

"In this republic, within the last ten years, 1,500 colored persons have been brutally murdered by mob violence upon the accusation of crime merely, without trial by jury, without and judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction, and in utter disregard of the constitutional rights of the accused persons.

"As late as September a negro accused of crime was burned at the stake, pitilessly tortured, and roasted to death by men, who call themselves American citizens. The cruelties of Nero, the massacres of innocent religionists, and the brutality of cannibalism, as chronicled in history, sink into insignificance when contrasted with the wholesale slaughter of the colored race, in the republic of Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln."

Appeals are made for a decided stand against these outrages to the church denominations and also especially to the Jewish church, in view of the fact that this government has recently protested against the treatment of the race in Roumania.

COAL BARONS GO TO WASHINGTON

They Will Meet the President in Conference Today.

Mike Leader Mitchell Will Also Be Present—The Hope Is Entertained That Settlement of the Strike Will Be Effected.

here this evening for Washington via Philadelphia. Mr. Mitchell conferred with the district presidents through the day. It is not known what policy the executive board of the miners' union will pursue at the conference.

Mr. Mitchell declined to express any opinion. All he would say was that he hoped for the best. The general feeling is, however, that President Roosevelt will succeed in bringing both parties together.

Philadelphia, October 2—National President John Mitchell; Thomas D. Nicholls, president of district No. 1; Thomas Duffy, president of district No. 7, and John Fahy, president of district No. 9, United Mine Workers of America, who left Wilkesbarre, Pa., today for Washington, D. C., passed through this city tonight. President Mitchell said the three district presidents, at the request of President Roosevelt, will attend the conference.

All the Barons Expected.

Washington, October 2.—"It is expected that all the men to whom invitations were sent yesterday will be present at the conference tomorrow. Mr. Baer and Mr. Mitchell have accepted."

This was the only statement that could be obtained at the white house today regarding the conference which will be held tomorrow on the coal situation.

Senator Quay, of Pennsylvania, was in conference with the president for an hour today and it is understood that he came here at the request of the president to discuss the strike situation. The president and senator were not interrupted and two cabinet officers who called did not see the president while the conference was in progress. Senator Quay, after he left the president, would not discuss the situation or express an opinion as to the probable effect of the coming conference.

During the day Secretary Root, Attorney General Knox and Secretary Shaw were in conference with the president. Secretary Wilson was at the white house for a short time, but the three first remained with the president for nearly an hour. It is understood that the president, discussed the subject of the conference tomorrow, the cabinet officers making a number of suggestions as to what the president should say to those who will participate in it.

It has been decided that Attorney General Knox will attend the conference tomorrow between the president, the coal operators and Mr. Mitchell, of the miners' union. He will be the only member of the cabinet who will be present. Carroll D. Wright, commissioner of labor, who recently made an investigation of the strike situation, also, will attend upon the invitation of the president.

While every one connected with the administration is extremely reticent concerning the coming conference, there is a feeling of hope among those close to the president that it is going to result in a settlement of the strike. This is based upon the acuteness of the situation and the necessity that exists for a settlement. The determination of the president to bring about a settlement, if possible, is largely responsible for the confidence which is felt in the outcome.

Operators Believe Settlement Likely.

Scranton, Pa., October 2.—Sentiment among the representatives of the coal operators here has undergone a change since yesterday regarding the action of President Roosevelt in assuming the role of an intermediary to settle the strike. Yesterday they said the only effect of the president's action would be to put off the surrender of the miners as many days as there were in the interim between the first announcement of his intention to intermediate and the announcement of the result—or rather lack of result—of the conference. Today these same men say the white house conference will hasten the end of the strike; that it will show the miners that no third party, not even the president of the United States, can budge the operators from their position and that once this is realized the strikers will weaken.

A prominent individual coal operator said today that he stood ready to guarantee that the operators would agree to a sliding scale basis of pay comprehending a 2 per cent raise for every 10 cents advance on coal above $4.50 f. o. b., the present selling price, if the miners' union would agree to put up the bonds to indemnify the operators for damages resulting from strike ordered by the discharge of men for causes other than connection with the union.

Coal Operators Summoned.

Albany, N. Y., October 2.—Attorney General Davies announced today that he had granted the application of The New York [illegible] coal operators be summoned to appear before him and show cause why proceedings should not be instituted against them under the Donnelly anti-trust law. A hearing will be given in this city October 8.

Coal Is Promised.

Harrisburg, Pa., October 2.—The Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company has notified its employees in Harrisburg who are heads of families that they will be supplied with one ton of anthracite coal each at $4.25 per ton in less than ten days.

Strikers Surprised.

Scranton, Pa., October 2.—A crowd of strikers at Throop tonight were given a rather unpleasant surprise party. They attacked a train going to the Pancoast colliery, which they supposed contained non-unionists, but which, in fact, had aboard two companies of soldiers. The train was quickly stopped, the soldiers piled out and captured eight of the mob, all foreigners. They were taken to this city and sent to jail in default of $800 bail each.

"LET US AT 'EM" CRIED "MELISH"

National Guard Joins Battle with the Regulars at Fort Riley.

GUARDSMEN WERE SPOILING TO GET INTO THE BATTLE

Their Willingness To Fight Would Have Brought Them Disaster if the Game of the Day Had Been in Deadly Earnest.

Fort Riley, Kans., October 2.—Intensely practical, exceedingly useful, but in no way picturesque, were the maneuvers today. They consisted entirely of instruction for the men of the national guard in the formation of outposts, and the performance of outpost duty. There were three exercises exactly alike, and the general description of one applies to the others.

In each case a regiment of regulars established the outpost, the officers of the national guard accompanying the commander of the regulars as spectators. When the outposts of regulars had been fully established and the details of the work made clear to the officers of the national guard, the state troops were called up and sent out to relieve the regulars on the outpost. When the state troops were completely established on the outpost, an attack was made by a small force of cavalry. It was the assumption that the attacking force was much larger in number than the outpost.

The national guard did excellent work in forming their outposts, the pickets and reserves being posted promptly. When, however, the attack was begun, the national guardsmen showed how much the instruction given at such a camp is needed by them. No criticism could be made of their gallantry and their willingness to fight, it was the excess of these qualities that would have brought them disaster had the game of today been in earnest.

When the regulars began to push home their attack, the national guardsmen were over anxious to fight. In many instances they rose from cover, firing standing or kneeling, and exposed themselves recklessly. While they did this, all that could be seen of the regulars was a brown dot where a hat could be distinguished above the grass, and their steady, rapid fire from behind cover would have worked terrible havoc among the state troops. The latter finally were brought more to cover, but throughout the fighting they bore themselves with an air of "Let me at 'em!" which spoke as strongly for their natural bravery as it did for their need of just such instruction as was given them today.

DEPEW'S TONGUE IN ACTION.

New York Senator Opens New York Republican Campaign.

New York, October 2.—Senator Chauncey M. Depew and Congressman Sereno E. Payne were the speakers tonight at a republican mass meeting, held at Carnegie hall, to open the state campaign and to ratify the nominations made at the Saratoga convention. The congressman, after paying a tribute to the administration of President Roosevelt and Governor Odell, discussed state issues and the country's prosperity. On the question of "trusts," he said there was much confusion in the minds of the people. It was indisputable that some corporations had existed which had oppressed the people, but there were more corporations, misnamed trusts, which had done much for the country.

Senator Depew praised the way in which the Spanish war had been handled; called attention to the prosperity of the country; lauded the party's record in Cuba and the Philippines, and said that all the results of the party's endeavors in this line had been carried to a successful issue in spite of alarms sounded by the democrats. He devoted the rest of his address to discussion of the trust problem, asserting that in proposing to dissolve the combinations of capital the democratic party makes no suggestion or provision for the cataclysm which would follow "in the suspension of industries, in the paralysis of employment and in the financial disasters, from the overthrow of our present business methods and the building up of new ones, upon some other unknown scheme."

Senator Depew advocated a ministry of commerce, and opposed any proposed repeal of the protective tariff.

OLD WINTER CHILLING EUROPE

Weather Cold and Stormy All Over the Continent.

London, October 3.—Europe is experiencing an approach of winter, and in England the weather is cold and stormy. Snow has fallen in Germany and Italy. Violent storms are raging in the Naples district, and there have been several deaths from drowning and lightning. The sea has carried away the semaphore station on the island of Capri. The mountain districts of Galacia are covered with snow. In Denmark and Scandinavia, also, the weather is very cold, inclement and wet. The harvests are late and the spring crops are threatened. Heavy falls of snow are reported from central and northern Sweden.

ARCHBISHOP KAIN IN PERIL.

Life of the St. Louis Prelate Is Despaired Of.

St. Louis, October 2.—Archbishop John J. Kain, who has been in poor health for the past six months, has experienced a marked change for the worse in the past two days. The archbishop's ailment is closely akin to paralysis, and while his physicians do not think there is immediate danger, it is known from the nature of his disease that the end is likely to come at any time.

WATERY WALL STRIKES CITY.

Reservoir Breaks and Portion of Camden Is Flooded.

Camden, N. J., October 2.—The city reservoir near the Delaware river broke today and about 8,000,000 gallons of water escaped and flowed down Twenty-seventh street, flooding the cellars of many houses and doing other damage. The reservoir is 344 feet long by 85 feet wide and 30 feet deep.

A watchman whose duty is was to open a valve when the water reaches a certain height neglected to do so and the water flowed over the embankment, washing away the earth to such an extent that the break followed. It will cost the city $25,000 to repair the damage.

HEARST IS A WINNER AND "BIG BILL," TOO

WILLIAM RANDOLPH HEARST.
Well-Known Newspaper Man Named for Congress by Tammany.

Well-Known Newspaper Owner Nominated for Congress by Tammany in New York and the Devery Delegates Are Recognized.

New York, October 2—Conventions were held tonight in the congressional districts within the boundaries of the boroughs of Manhattan, the Bronx and Richmond. The nominations follow:

Republican, eighth district, Montague Lessler, renominated; ninth, convention adjourned; tenth, adjourned; eleventh, Henry Bissell; twelfth, Charles Shongood; thirteenth, James W. Perry; fourteenth, convention adjourned; fifteenth, William H. Douglass, renominated; sixteenth, convention adjourned; seventeenth, Harvey T. Andrews; eighteenth, Frank C. Schaeffler.

Democrats, eighth district, state senator, Timothy D. Sullivan; ninth, Henry M. Goldfogle, renominated; tenth, William Sulzer, renominated; eleventh, William R. Hearst; twelfth, George B. McClellan, renominated; thirteenth, convention adjourned; fourteenth, Ira E. Rider; fifteenth, convention adjourned; sixteenth, Jacob Ruppert, Jr., renominated; seventeenth, Francis E. Shober; eighteenth, convention adjourned.

Interest in the nominations centered in that to be made in the eleventh district by the democrats, because the Tammany leaders had announced earlier in the day that William S. Devery and his delegates would not be allowed seats in the convention. Devery sent an emissary to the hall and threatened mandamus proceedings and said if it was too late for this method of attack he would attack the legality of the convention proceedings if a nomination was made without recognizing him and his associates. Before the convention met Secretary Smith, of Tammany, announced that the leaders recognized the legality of the election of the Devery delegation and that they would be given seats.

The nomination went by acclamation to William Randolph Hearst, editor and proprietor of The New York American. He was placed in nomination by former State Senator T. C. O'Sullivan and William S. Devery made a speech seconding the nomination. In the eighth district, where Perry Belmont was thought to be the only candidate, State Senator Sullivan was nominated. This was done by the joining hands of the Richmond borough delegates and those led by Mr. Sullivan. The candidates nominated represent constituencies for a redistricting of New York county. A special election is to be held to fill the vacancy in the old tenth district, which was represented by Amos J. Cummings, deceased.

NOT BY GREED AND VIOLENCE

Can Contest Between Employer and Employee be Settled, Says Dennett.

New York, Ooctober 2.—At today's session of the semi-anual convention of the New England Cotton Manufacturers' Association, in this city, a paper dealing with the labor question was read by Charles W. Dennett, of North Adams, Mass., who said, among other things:

"Colonel Carroll D. Wright, in his report on the coal strike situation, gave as the fundamental reason for the bad condition of things the utter lack of confidence between employees and employers. Established business confidence between the help and the management is a valuable thing for any company. It is much harder to make trouble when such a feeling exists. To be valuable it is not necessary that it be universal. That is too much to hope for. But if the best help feel that their employers are willing to meet them on common ground and do the best for them that business conditions permit it is a great point gained. Exact justice to every employee, no matter how small or insignificant, should be insisted upon. More than one strike has been caused by an arrogant, blundering or tactless overseer. Amid all the trouble and turmoil and disputes, the law-making and law-breaking incident to contests between employer and employee one great trouble stands unshaken and unmoved, viz, that fundamentally it is a moral question of right and wrong, and it will never be settled by greed and violence on either side."

Among those who were elected to active membership in the organization were Louis L. Guion, Columbia, S. C.; Albert E. McDonald, Lawrenceville, Ga.

LODGE'S SON IN LAW CHOSEN.

NORTHERN POLE IN A BED OF ICE

That's the Opinion of Baldwin Just Back from the Aniarctic.

New York, October 2.—Evelyn B. Baldwin, the Arctic explorer, arrived today on the steamship Germanic, of the White Star line.

Mr. Baldwin at first refused to talk about the alleged controversies which had taken place between him and Captain Johannsen, of the America, but after hearing that it had been reported that the expedition had been short of food and supplies, he said:

"There is not a word of truth in the report of our not having sufficient supplies. It is easy to explain the trouble between myself and Captain Johannnesen. He wanted to be the whole thing. I have learned one good lesson, though—never a Swede and a Norwegian together along with you if you want to avoid trouble. The ice pilot was a Norwegian and the sailing master a Swede. There's the whole thing in a nutshell.

"The meteorological observations taken and the dredging will be of great interest to science. We manufactured our own hydrogen gas for the balloons without accident, which is another thing, I think, we deserve credit for. The knowledge gained of air and ocean currents will also be of great value to science.

"I still believe that when the pole is reached it will be found to be surrounded by ice.

"The fate of Andre? Why, I think he went down into the sea."

COMET IS GROWING BRIGHTER.

Will Be Visible to Naked Eye in a Few Days.

Geneva, N. Y., October 2.—Dr. W. R. Brooks, director of Smith observatory and professor of astronomy at Hobart college, has had the new comet discovered by Professor Perrine at the Lick observatory under frequent observations since its discovery.

Professor Brooks says the comet is increasing in brightness and on October 6 it will be about twenty-seven times brighter than when first observed, when it will be a few degrees north of the upper star in the cross of Cygnus. The comet will not be a brilliant object, but may be seen with the naked eye when well located.

Special Cable.

This is the first time the war office has given a contract for government work to Americans.

TOBACCO TRUST PARCELS GLOBE

Authorized Statement as to the Combine Made by Thomas F. Ryan.

AMERICAN TRUST HOLDS MAJORITY OF THE STOCK

In British Home Market British Company Will Have No Opposition, and the American Company Will Be Unopposed in United States.

New York, October 2.—An authorized statement regarding the agreement between the American and British Tobacco companies was made today by Thomas F. Ryan, who returned on Tuesday from London. Mr. Ryan said that the statements made in several of the papers on the morning after his arrival, purporting to quote his interpretation of the agreement in London, were inaccurate and, in some instances, misleading. As to the conditions under which the new agreement was formed, he said today:

"The agreement made between the representatives of the Imperial Tobacco Company, of England, on the one hand, and the Consolidated Tobacco Company on the other, was mutual in its character and entirely satisfactory to both sides. It was accomplished by a friendly conference after full consideration of the interests of all parties affected.

"The agreement has an international character which has not belonged, I think, to any previous trade arrangement. It means the reunion of the representatives of an important business in Great Britain and America for the purpose of seeking trade hand in hand throughout the world.

"My visit to London grew out of an invitation extended to me in July last by the directors of the British company, after several of the directors had visited the United States, and while here had conferences with Mr. Duke, president of the Consolidated Tobacco Company, and myself regarding the respective interests of the companies we represented. The agreement made to transfer to the Imperial Tobacco Company the business of the Consolidated Tobacco Company in England was made for full and satisfactory consideration. The American company becomes a large shareholder in the English company, with three representatives on its board of directors, one of whom is Mr. Duke.

"The Consolidated Tobacco Company will pursue its business in the American field, including not only the United States, but Cuba, Porto Rico, the Hawaiian islands and the Philippines, without competition from the English company. The Imperial company will not encounter the competition of the American company in the business of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, including Scotland and Wales.

"In the new British-American company, the British company has one-third of the stock and the American company has two-thirds. The board of directors consists of six representatives of the British company and twelve of the American, with Mr. Duke as its president, who remains abroad to perfect the organization. This British-American company will take over the entire business of the Imperial company and of the Consolidated company in all foreign countries and in the colonies of Great Britain, including India, Canada and Australia. The agreement made is satisfactory to both sides and equitable to all interests represented."

MEXICO REACHES FOR TRADE.

Commission Is Sent to Central and South America.

Washington, October 2.—The Mexican government is lending its authority and assistance to a strong effort making by the Mexican commercial interests to capture a share of the trade of Central and South America. United States Consul Canada, at Vera Cruz, reports to the state department that this is to be accomplished through the agency of a Mexican commercial commission, in part aided by manufacturers, but supported principally by the government.

This commission already has started on a long journey through Central and South America, though it may seem strange that their voyage lays first through New York and thence across the Atlantic to Europe. Returning to South America, the commission will spend eight or ten months in an effort to stimulate Mexican trade with the countries they visit. The purpose is to study what Mexican products can be placed in those countries.

ROOSEVELT NOT SO CLEMENT.

He Has Granted Fewer Pardons Than Any President.

Washington, October 2.—James S. Easby-Smith, pardon attorney in the department of justice, has rendered to the attorney general his report of pardon work transacted during the year ended June 30 last. The report shows that 788 cases were handled. The president acted on 315 cases, of which he denied 181 and exercised executive clemency in some form in 134. From the report it appears that President Roosevelt has granted fewer pardons and denied more, proportionately, than any president for many years.

MANY NEW NATIONAL BANKS.

Thirty-Eight Were Organized During Month of September.

Washington, October 2.—The monthly statement of the comptroller of the currency shows that the number of national banking associations was increased during the month of September by the organization of 38 banks with an aggregate capital stock of $3,080,000, bonds being deposited thereby as security for the circulation to the amount of $506,750. Fourteen of the associations with capital of $2,425,000 were with individual capital of $605,000, banks of the class authorized by the amendment of March 14, 1900.

The number of conversions of state into national banks during the month was seven. Banks of primary organization numbered 26, of which 9 with aggregate capital of $1,650,000 were of the larger class and 17 with a total capital of $425,000 of the smaller class.

From March 14, 1900, to September 6, 1902, there were added to the system 1,179 associations with aggregate capital stock of $68,964,600. Included in the total number of organizations are 153 banks with a capital of $11,865,000 which were converted from state institutions. There were organized as successors to state or private banks placed in liquidation for the purpose 356 associations with total capital of $20,510,000. The resulting number of primary organizations is 670, the aggregate capital being $36,689,500.

The authorized capital stock of banks on September 30 was $711,167,630, showing an increase in the number of banks since March 14, 1900, of 1,034 and in capital stock of $394,359,600.

During that period bonds on deposit as security for circulation increased from $244,511,570 to $326,052,770. Circulation secured by bonds from $216,374,795 to $323,843,144, or a total increase of $107,468,3494. The amount of circulation outstanding secured by deposits of lawful money on account insolvent and liquidation associations and those reducing their circulation increased during the period from $38,027,835 to $43,150,454. The total national bank circulation outstanding amounts to $366,993,598.

GAVE DOLLAR DIET TO THE COUNCIL

the money then offered him by the promoter.

Witness next saw Snyder at the Waldorf-Astoria, in New York, where defendant said he had $5,000 belonging to promoters which he was ready to give Uthoff. He got $2,500 on that visit and $2,500 more three or four months later. Witness told of Snyder's attempts to get the $50,000 from Meier. Snyder said he would turn it over to Uthoff.

Ed Butler Involved.

Circuit Attorney Folk then proceeded to question the witness as to the opposition to the Central Traction bill, which had developed and sprung the most interesting bit of information which the Snyder trial has yet disclosed, involving the name of John Scullin, ex-street railroad magnate, and Edward Butler, a local millionaire politician, in what the witness characterized as an attempt to defeat the Central Traction measure by the use of a big sum of money distributed in relays of $5,000 each to the certain councilmen every month.

"In March, 1898, Mr. Scullin gave me a bill to introduce, called the United Traction bill," Uthoff stated. "It was designed to head off the Central Traction bill.

"I met Mr. Scullin and he paid me $25,000 to push his bill and defeat the other one."

"What did you do with the money?"

"I returned it to Mr. Scullin through Ed Butler."

After some further testimony, in the course of which witness said Snyder had told him he paid Councilman Charles E. Carroll $15,000, Judge Priest, for the defense, took the witness in hand and began the cross-examination.

Monthly Salary for Boodling.

Uthoff testified under cross-examination that last week he and Scully were before the grand jury together and that he told the grand jury that Scully gave him $25,000 to vote against the Central Traction bill.

Attorney Priest questioned the witness about Butler and the monthly salary Uthoff said he (Butler) paid the witnesses, Gast, Gaus, Thuner, Brinkmeyer and Krats for several months.

Witness said Butler paid them $433 per month while the Central Traction bill was pending. This was to insure the promoters of the traction bill that the six councilmen in question would not vote for any rival street railway bill.

Louis C. Dieckman was the next witness. He was speaker of the house of delegates while the Central Traction bill was pending. Dieckman testified that Snyder asked him to assist in getting the Central Traction bill passed, and Snyder said he would see that any promise made by George J. Kobusch, president of the St. Louis Car Company, would be kept.

The witness said he agreed to assist Snyder. He told of arranging the first interview between Uthoff and Snyder, and also a second, in a saloon.

George H. Kobusch then took the stand. Witness testified that Snyder had told him he paid $50,000 to Uthoff to pass the Central Traction bill.

Mr. Kobusch said Snyder, John H. Blessing, Edgar A. Mephan, L. B. Tebbetts and F. E. Marshall and he were interested in the Central Traction bill.

"Did Snyder ever say anything to you with reference to procuring the vote of Frederick G. Uthoff on the measure in the council?" was asked.

"Yes."

Wanted $50,000 for Vote.

"What did he say to you and where?"

"Snyder said once, at the Planters' hotel, that Uthoff wanted $50,000 for his vote."

"Did he say he had paid $50,000?"

"Yes."

"You are clear on the point that Snyder said he'd paid $50,000 for the vote?"

"Yes."

"What members of the assembly did Snyder tell you he had paid?"

"Snyder said he'd paid Charles E. Carroll $17,500."

"For whom did he tell you Charles Carroll was handling the money?"

"John C. Brinkmeyer and Paulus Gast."

"What did he tell you he'd paid Brinkmeyer and Gast?"

"Ten thousand dollars each."

"Did Snyder at any time give you $10,000 to be sent to Henry Gaus?"

"Yes."

"Did you send the money to Gaus?"

"I sent $10,000 by Edgar A. Mephan to Henry Gaus, Jr."

Witness further testified he got between $35,000 to $40,000 from Snyder, of which Mephan was to get $25,000 for his services as legislative agent."

"Did Mr. Snyder tell you that he had bought Uthoff's vote?"

"He told me he had made arrangements for Uthoff's."

Major William Warner took charge of the cross examination for the defense.

Kobusch, in reply to a question, said he did not know positively that Uthoff got one cent for his vote. Kobusch was the final witness of the afternoon session.

GIVES FOUR MILLION DOLLARS.

John M. Burke Donates That Sum for Hospital.

Marshall, Minn., October 2.—A deed was filed for record here today, whereby John M. Burke conveys to the Winfield Masterson Burke relief foundation $4,000,000 worth of real and personal property, to be used as an endowment for a hospital for convalescents. The deed recites the object of the donation and states that the foundation was named for Mr. Burke's mother.

PUSHING THE GRAVE ROBBERS.

Another Step Is Taken in the Indiana Sensation.

Indianapolis, Ind., October 2.—Another step was taken today in the grave robbery sensation, when affidavits were filed by Prosecutor Collins against the demonstrators of anatonomy in different medical and dental colleges in this city, charging them with failing to keep a complete record of all bodies purchased for dissecting purposes.

The affidavits were filed in an effort to test the law holding colleges liable where a record is not kept.

Accompanied by Rufus Cantrell and Walter Daniels, two of the negroes arrested for robbing graves, the detectives today spent four hours in a search for stolen bodies. Cantrell consented to give every assistance possible which might lead to the discovery of the bodies, and the detectives thought that in this way some of the bodies might be recovered. Several places mentioned by Cantrell were visited, including doctors' offices and undertaking establishments, but no bodies were found.

CASTRO FLEES BEFORE REBELS

Army of the President in Precipitate Retreat.

After Declining Battle with the Rebels Castro Takes Up a Strong Position Near Caracas, Where He Is Awaiting Attack.

Willemstad, October 2.—News has reached here from Venezuela that the Venezuelan revolutionary forces under General Matos have effected a junction with the command of the revolutionary general Mendoza near Camatagua, in the state of Miranda, 50 miles south of Caracas. The combined forces total 6,500 men.

Last Wednesday the revolutionists were at San Juan de Los Moros, near Villa de Cura. At this point the government forces under President Castro, amounting to 4,000 men, retreated precipitately before the vanguard of the revolutionists. There have been many desertions from President Castro's army.

President Castro is now at Los Teques, a very strong strategical position but a few hours' ride from Caracas and which is considered nearly impregnable. He is awaiting attack by the revolutionists. During the past three days the government has been forcibly recruiting for the army day and night on the streets of Caracas. When some of the men thus gathered in attempted to escape the recruiting parties fired on them.

Provisions in Caracas are scarce and meal is worth 30 cents a pound. The government intends to attack the revolutionists at Barcelona next Sunday. Another revolutionary army under General Rolando is now located at Cua, in the state of Miranda, 25 miles south of Caracas.

TOO LIBERAL TO CUNARD LINE

Britons Object to the Action of the Government.

London, October 2.—A day's reflection appears to have conviced many people that the government has treated the Cunard Steamship Company too generously and considerable objection is crystallizing around the question whether the government has not acted over hastily in thus departing from its traditional policy with regard to subsidies. The strongest objection is made to providing money with which to build new steamers. It is argued that so doing will form a difficult precedent, as other shipping companies are certain to demand similar privileges which it will be found hard to refuse. It is feared also that the American and other governments will retaliate by increasing their subsidies.

WIFE SWOONS BY HIS CORPSE

Heartrending Scene When Mme. Zola Views Body of Her Husband.

WILL OF THE NOVELIST FOUND IN HIS BED ROOM

Contents of the Document Not Made Public, but It Is Understood That Zola Left Everything to His Wife—No Literary Will.

Paris, October 2.—Madame Zola was allowed to see the body of her husband today. A large crowd assembled in front of the house, saluted her respectfully as the widow alighted from a carriage, assisted by two doctors. She was attired in deep mourning and was evidently very weak. When her husband's features were uncovered Madame Zola's anguish was heart-rending. She finally swooned.

The will of Emile Zola was found, as indicated by Madame Zola, in his bed room, the seals of which were broken in order to obtain the document. The room was immediately sealed up again. The will was not opened until a late hour tonight, and its contents had not been made public. It is understood, however, that Zola left everything to his wife. He left no literary testament and the will contains no directions as to the funeral.

BRITISH SUBJECTS FEARFUL.

Serious State of Affairs in the Bay Islands.

Mobile, Ala., October 2.—Captain Coe, of the British schooner Clara L. Dyer, which has just arrived from Ruatan, reports that there is an intensely uneasy feeling existing among the British subjects in the bay islands of Ruatan, Bonacco and Truxillo and in consequence of Great Britain's ceding those islands to Honduras.

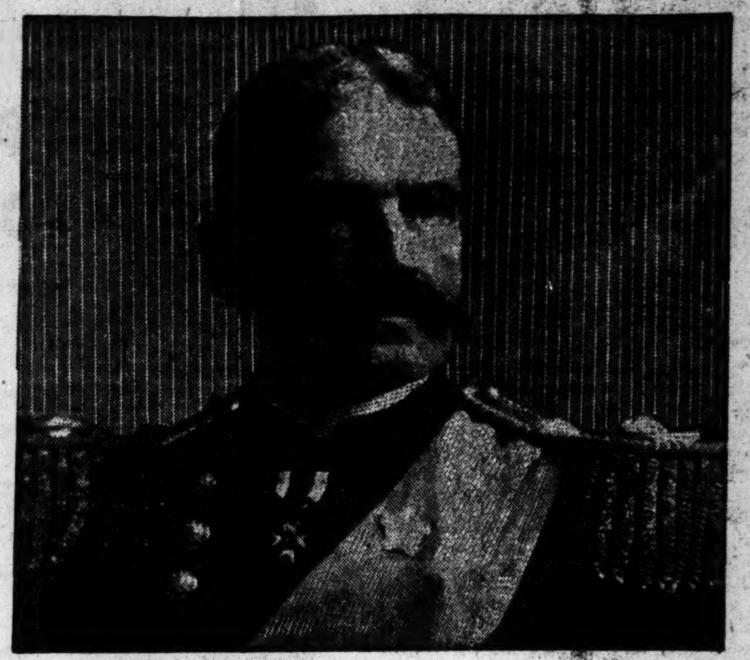

Since the islands have been ceded to Honduras the inhabitants, who have all along considered themselves British subjects, are in doubt as to whether they owe allegiance to Honduras or Great Britain and in consequence are much disturbed lest they should be impressed into military service by the Honduranian government. There is great probability of a revolution in the near future. The presidential elections takes place early this month and two contesting candidates, Manual Bonilla and Juan Angel Arias, are both popular and have strong backing. It is feared in that country that the defeated candidate will not abide by the decision of the ballots, but will rally his forces and precipitate a revolution.

If a revolution should occur the bay islanders will be on the horns of a bad dilemma, not knowing whether they are British or Hondurian subjects.

Some of the islanders have been drilled, but as yet no effort has been made to press them into military service.

The tariff committee of the German reichstag has passed the second reading of the new tariff bill and concluded its labor.

CHAFFEE AND WRIGHT SAIL FOR UNITED STATES

GENERAL ADNA R. CHAFFEE.
Accompanied by Vice Governor Wright, He Has Sailed from Manila for the United States.

After Long Service in Philippines General and Vice Governor Are Returning Home--Great Farewell Demonstration.

Manila, October 2.—General Chaffee and Vice Governor Wright sailed for San Francisco today on the transport Sumner. They were accorded a general and popular farewell demonstration. The Philippine commissioners, Brigadier General Davis, commander of the division of the Philippines, the officers of the division and the staff assembled at military headquarters and escorted General Chaffee and Mr. Wright to the landing place through continuous lines of troops and cheering crowds. The guns of Fort Santiago, where the travelers embarked, fired a salute in their honor. Mr. Wright will remain home five months.

CRIME FILLS THEIR MINDS

Students of Criminology Are in Convention at St. Petersburg.

St. Petersburg, Friday, September 19.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The psychic element in crime appears to be the peg upon which all the noteworthy utterances of the ninth congress of the international society of criminalists, now sitting in this city, are going to be hung. This society was founded on the initiative of Professor Franz Von Liszt, of Berlin, whom many American students will recall as the strenuous supporter of the thesis that the object of the organs of justice is the protection of society and not the expiation of crime, nor, by itself considered, the reformation of the criminal.

Professor Liszt is president of the present congress. There are about 300 foreign delegates, largely from Germany, though nearly every important country except the United States is represented.

"The importance in penal law of the psychic elements of crime in comparison with its material consequences," occupied the place of honor in the programme. Professor Von Mayer, of Germany, offered the following thesis:

"1. The criminal law should contain a definition of an attempt.

"2. Such a definition must be emancipated from the traditional notion of the 'beginning of execution.'

"3. A criminal is punishable only when expressly determined by law.

"4. The punishment of attempts should be in principle the same as that of completed crimes, with the reservation of a limited judicial power of remission.

"5. When penitence for an attempted crime is shown, punishment is to be remitted."

Another speaker viewed the case thus:

"A child at play may start a conflagration; the desperate plans of a crime-steeped criminal may fail; shall we guillotine the child and let the criminal still prey on society until he succeeds in some villainy?"

The congress, by a large majority, adopted the following conclusions, which were formulated by Professors Von Liszt and Van Hamel, of Amsterdam:

"1. Nobody is punishable for the consequence of his acts except in so far as he could have foreseen or prevented them.

"2. As to the question of complicity the law should drop all doctrinaire distinctions between those who have participated in the crime itself and confine itself to indicating the modes of participation that it will consider as such.

"3. The question of the attempt will remain on the order of the day of the society.

A strong plea for effective action against the "white slave trade" was made by M. G. Fenillely, advocate general of the court of cassation of Paris.

After welcoming the delegates Minister of Justice Muravieff made the following statement:

"The publication of a new criminal law book is imminent in Russia. The council of the empire has recently received a project for the complete reorganization of the criminal court procedure. If important changes are made in our penitentiary system, suffice it to mention the abolition of deportation (by judgment of court) to Siberia, the transfer of prison management from the ministry of the interior to that of justice, the reform of our prison system and especially of prison labor, the establishment of correctional institutions and the preliminary work in the matter of conditional sentences."

POLES ARE FLEEING RUSSIA.

Over Two Millions Leave Their Homes Every Year.

St. Petersburg, Thursday, September 18.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The annual migration of Russian Polish laborers to Prussia is well known. Attention is directed by The St. Petersburg Vodomosti to a similar movement on a larger scale within the borders of European Russia. It is calculated that 2,137,000 peasants, insufficiently provided with arable land, leave their homes in the central and northern provinces every year to work in the south. They start with a small amount of money—usually borrowed from a usurer—and it is the exception when they know where work is to be found. The writer proposes the organization of an information bureau to communicate to the migrators the government crop reports.

STRANGER THAN FICTION.

A Remedy Which Has Revolutionized the Treatment of Stomach Troubles.

The remedy is not heralded as a wonderful discovery nor yet a secret patent medicine, neither is it claimed to cure anything except dyspepsia, indigestion and stomach troubles with which nine out of ten suffer.

The remedy is in the form of pleasant tasting tablets or lozenges, containing vegetable and fruit essences, pure aseptic pepsin (government test), golden seal and diastase. The tablets are sold by druggists under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Many interesting experiments to test the digestive power of Stuart's tablets show that one grain of the active principle contained in them is sufficient to thoroughly digest 3,000 grains of raw meat, eggs and other wholesome food.

Stuart's Tablets do not act upon the bowels like after dinner pills and cheap cathartics, which simply irritate and inflame the intestines without having any effect whatever in digesting food or curing indigestion.

If the stomach can be rested and assisted in the work of digestion it will very soon recover its normal vigor, as no organ is so much abused and overworked as the stomach.

This is the secret, if there is any secret, of the remarkable success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, a remedy practically unknown a few years ago and now the most widely known of any treatment for stomach weakness.

This success has been secured entirely upon its merits as a digestive pure and simple because there can be no stomach trouble if the food is promptly digested.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets act entirely on the food eaten, digesting it completely, so that it can be assimilated into blood, nerve and tissue. They cure dyspepsia, water brash, sour stomach, gas and bloating after meals, because they furnish the digestive power which weak stomachs lack and unless that lack is supplied it is useless to attempt to cure by the use of "tonics," "pills" and cathartics which have absolutely no digestive power.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can be found at all drug stores and the regular use of one or two of them after meals will demonstrate their merit better than any other argument.

Former Tammany Boss Refuses To Discuss the New York Convention.

HE SAYS DEMOCRATS ARE NOT IN NEED OF HIM

Admits, However, That He Has Read the Reports of the Convention, and That He Found Them To Be Very Interesting.

London, October 2.—"I do not suppose that I have said more than a hundred times that I am out of politics," replied Richard Croker, at Wantage, tonight when questioned by a representative of the Associated Press for his opinion concerning the New York democratic state convention at Saratoga.

MAHAN ON NAVAL EXPANSION.

Views of American Writer Are Discussed in London.

London, October 2.—The Times this morning reprints the chief passages in Captain Mahan's article, published in the United States and entitled "Why We Must Have a Greater Navy."

In an editorial on the article in question The Times says Captain Mahan's argument is undoubtedly cogent and comprehensive and it affords much food for reflection. It touches not only the United States, but every naval and commercial power in the world and opens out a prospect of universal naval expansion to which it seems hardly possible to set any assignable limit so long as the commercial expansion of one nation means the commercial exclusion of others. Yet this article, continues The Times, does not necessarily imply anything of the kind. Commerce ought to be a reconciling and consolidating force. No man wants to quarrel with his best customer, but every man is prone to quarrel with the neighbor who boycotts his wares. If these simply maxims of daily life were accepted in international commerce there might be some prospect of escape from the appalling, yet inevitable burden, which Captain Mahan's logic seems to fasten upon the nations.

Cheering Report by the Secretary of the Treasury.

Over a Million Paid Out During September, and There Is About a Million and a Half in the Treasury—Confidence Restored.

Havana, October 2.—Senor Montes, secretary of the treasury, reports that the customs receipts for the entire island of Cuba during the month of September amounted to $1,307,102. The receipts from the postoffice, money order department, internal revenue and sundries and reimbursements, etc., bring the total receipts for the month up to $1,596,401. The cash on hand August 31 was $1,039,247, which, added to the total of September's receipts, makes a grand total of $2,635,648. Payments made during September amounted to $1,228,912, and there was a balance in the treasury September 30 of $1,406,736.

This report shows an increase in the customs receipts for September of this year of $264,490 over those of September, 1901.

The fact that the customs receipts of the island now are keeping up with those collected during the period of intervention has caused a good impression among the business element of the island and favorable comments from the press. These conditions, coupled with an increase in the price of sugar, and the reports that the sugar crop will be much larger than that of last year, are bringing about a noticeable restoration of confidence.

The senate has asked President Palma if the withdrawal of American soldiers from Cuba is dependent upon an increase in the force of Cuban artillery. A proposition is now before the senate to increase this branch of the Cuban service by one thousand men.

In its issue of today The Diario de la Marina blames congress for delaying business and for not having passed up to the present time any of the important measures before it.

Tifton Wants City Court.

Tifton, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—A meeting was held by the citizens of Tifton tonight to take steps toward securing a special act from the approaching legislature establishing a city court in Tifton, similar to the act creating the city court of Barnesville. It is proposed to give the court jurisdiction over only one militia district of Berrien county, district No. 1314, of which Tifton is near the center. Tifton lies 26 miles as the crow flies from Nashville, the county seat of Berrien, or 34 miles by rail over two lines of road. To make a trip to the county seat and allow time to transact any business it requires one day and two nights' time and an outlay of about $5 in money. This makes it exceedingly difficult to get witnesses to the county court either for civil or criminal business and interferes seriously with the administration of the law through this section. A creation of a city court here would be a great convenience and the saving of a heavy expense to the people of Tifton and surrounding district. It will work no hardship to the balance of the county and take but very little business from the county court, so it is thought that there will be but very little if any opposition to the bill.

GOES TO BUY FLOWER LINES

Southern Will Get Queen and Crescent A. & V. and V., S. & P. Roads.

Chattanooga, Tenn., October 2.—(Special.)—President Spencer, of the Southern railway, is in Europe for the purpose of closing a deal for the acquisition of the Flower lines by the Southern, especially of the old Queen and Crescent system. The statement is given from an authoritative source.

Some time ago President Schiffe, of the old system, stated in London that the New Orleans and Northeastern road could not be purchased without the Alabama and Vicksburg and Vicksburg, Shreveport and Pacific being included in the deal. The Southern has been after the New Orleans and Northeastern for many years, but steadfastly refused to take over the other two lines. The Flower lines, composed of all three of the above, has a total mileage of 510 miles, and completes the shortest line to New Orleans or the great west.

The Flower lines are owned at present by a syndicate of English capitalists who formerly controlled the Queen and Crescent route. Little by little the Southern system has absorbed the old system, and will now complete the work by taking over these lines.

Official announcement of the sale is looked for in a very short time.

Capital Stock Is $1,000,000, and That Amount Is Outstanding in Bonds—All the Railways Will Be Consolidated and Improved.

Baltimore, Md., October 2.—(Special.)—One of the most important trolley and lighting deals in the country was consummated today at the headquarters of the Railways and Light Company of America, in the Continental building. Interests identified with that company, who are also the controlling owners in the North Augusta Electric and Improvement Company, of Augusta, Ga., and the Augusta-Aiken electric railway, consummated the purchase of a majority of the stock of the Augusta Railway and Electric Company, of Augusta, Ga. The purchasers are as follows: J. W. Middendorf, of Baltimore; John L. Williams & Sons, of Richmond, Va.; John Blair Macafee, of Philadelphia; Alfred S. Elliott, of Wilmington, Del., and James U. Jackson, of Augusta, Ga.

The Augusta Railway and Electric Company owns the entire street railway and electric lighting properties of the city of Augusta, Ga. The control of the company was bought from Messrs. Jarvis and Conklin, of New York, and Colonel D. B. Dyer, of Augusta. Its capital stock is $1,000,000, and it has $1,000,000 of bonds outstanding. The bonds are largely owned by Baltimore investors and financial institutions. The company's property has been practically rebuilt in the past two years, and in machinery and methods is looked upon as a model plant.

It is understood that the purpose of the purchase is to consolidate the Augusta Railway and Electric Company with the Augusta-Aiken electric railway. The latter is an interurban railway which starts at Augusta, Ga., and runs to Aiken, S. C., a distance of 24 miles. It traverses eight cities and towns between the terminal points and enters the heart of Augusta by a trackage arrangement with the Augusta railway.

The purchasers said that they were not ready to discuss the plan of consolidation and had nothing to say in reference to the details of financing their purchase. It is understood that no great scheme of capitalization is proposed, and what will be done will be along conservative lines.

The Augusta-Aiken railway is operated by the Railways and Light Company of America, which also operates the street railways at Lexington, Ky.; Knoxville, Tenn.; Macon, Ga.; the Portsmouth, Berkley and Suffolk Water Company, and other properties. Its special business is to furnish experts to supervise and improve such properties. The new purchase will be brought under the same influence. R. Lancaster Williams, of Richmond, Va.; John Blair Macafee, of Philadelphia; James U. Jackson, of Augusta, Ga.; E. L. Bemiss, general manager of the Railways and Light Company; A. H. Rutherford, of J. W. Middendorf & Co.; Henry M. Buist, of Charleston, S. C., and Alfred S. Elliott were among those present today when the deal was closed.

Childs, Mrs. Charles Hardin, Mrs. George T. Brown, Mrs. W. B. Thweatt, Mrs. L. P. Hill, Mrs. R. R. Reid, Mrs. B. S. Willingham and Misses Annewill Hardin, Rosamond Hardin, Mary Lynn Talmadge, Evelyn Ponder, Addie Ensign and Ethel Hill received and entertained the guests. Punch was served. The officers of the bank are J. M. Ponder, president; Samuel Rutherford, vice president; Walker White, cashier; W. P. Bloodworth, assistant cashier.

TO SELL STREET CAR LINE.

Washington System Proves a Bad Investment.

Washington, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—The stockholders of the Washington street railway have informed the bondholders of the road that they may proceed legally to make ... amount due them, viz., $2,800 and interest thereon for four years.

The bondholders will shortly take possession and endeavor to sell it as it now stands if a reasonable price can be obtained. If not, they will take up the track and sell the rails to junkers. The principal stockholders of the road are T. M. Green, T. C. Hogue and T. Burwell Green. It is said that this road and the Covington and Oxford road are the only two "hay burner" roads in Georgia.

...RIC LIGHT PLANT

Madison Will Soon Be the Best Lighted City in the State.

Madison Cotton Market.

Perhaps at no time in her history has Madison received so much cotton as up to the present period since the season opened. But few cotton markets in the state give a better price for the staple than Madison. The city has a magnificent corps of cotton buyers who vie with each other in giving the best price possible. Many farmers in adjoining counties are bringing their cotton here, and the streets are thronged with heavily laden wagons daily.

BIG NAVAL STORES COMPANY.

Capitalization of Consolidated Interests Will Be $3,000,000.

Savannah, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—W. C. Powell, president of the prospective consolidated naval stores company, returned today from Jacksonville, where he yesterday attended a meeting of representatives of the independent naval stores concerns that are to be merged. When seen here he said that the capitalization of the company is to be $3,000,000 instead of $2,500,000, as published. It has also been determined to begin operations about January, as it is intended to effect organization about November 11.

The vice presidents named in Jacksonville were for the purpose of getting a charter in Florida, but will not necessarily be those in charge of the company's affairs. The C. Downing Company, of Brunswick, with those already mentioned in The Constitution, will be represented in the consolidation, though it will not, like the other concerns, go into liquidation and lose its identity.

HAD THE RING IN HIS SHOE.

Customer Takes Salesman's Diamond in Athens Store.

Athens, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—Rufe Turner, bookkeeper for Turner & Hodgson, had a $300 diamond ring stolen from him last night, and it was found this morning in the shoe of a young man named Bob Simmons, of Madison county.

Simmons was arrested on a warrant charging him with larceny and also on a warrant for carrying concealed weapons.

Turner was fitting a pair of shoes on Simmons when the latter asked to see the ring. The ring was handed him for inspection in a most natural way, and when Turner went to put the cash in the office drawer Simmons left.

He was searched for all night by the police, but was not found until this morning. He was arrested at the Seaboard depot and denied his guilt. On the way up town from the depot the ring was found in his shoe.

Macon, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—The registration books for the aldermanic election in December opened on yesterday. Only fifty-nine voters registered. The books will be open on every Monday, Wednesday and Saturday in October. This registration will be used in the white primary on November 4 for the nomination of one alderman from each of the four wards of Macon.

Official Count Will Not Materially Change General Result.

POPULISTS SUCCESSFUL IN COFFEE COUNTY CONTEST

Democrats Win Only Two Offices, Sheriff and Tax Receiver—Candidate for Representative To Contest—Results by Counties.

The consolidated returns received from over the state do not materially affect the standing of the two contestants in the judgeship race as announced in yesterday morning's Constitution.

The later reports are about equaly favorable to both candidates, and will not change the general result. The majority for Judge Candler will probably amount to 18,000 votes in the state.

Particular interest centered in the race in Coffe county, where the fight was close. In this county Candler received a majority of 500. The populist nominees were successful in most of the contests for county offices, and but two places went to the democrats—those of sheriff and tax receiver. Ward, the democratic nominee for representative, gives notice of intention to contest. The democrats were successful in Fannin county, but in Haralson the populists polled a stronge vote, casting 750 votes for Hines for governor.

The result by counties is as follows:

Chattooga County.

Summerville, Ga., October 2.—(Special.) Judge Ross carries this county over Candler by a majority of 250. For the state ticket about 1,800 votes were polled.

Elbert County.

Elberton, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—Elbert county goes for Ross by a majority of 200. The vote for the state ticket was light and comparatively little interest was shown.

Cherokee County.

Canton, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—In this county the majority for Candler was about 500. In the race for representative W. C. Mills wins in a walkover. For sheriff, Silas B. Worley, independent, received a majority of 400.

Campbell County.

Fairburn, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—The state ticket received about 450 votes in yesterday's election. Vote for Candler was 430, for Ross 15, Candler's majority 415.

Baldwin County.

Milledgeville, Ga., October 2.—(Special.) The vote cast for Terrell in yesterday's election numbered 293. All other members on state ticket received within 10 or 15 of this vote. County officers polled full vote. Ross won county over Candler by majority of 25.

Terrell County.

Dawson, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—The total vote cast yesterday for state ticket was about 500. Ross carried Dawson precinct by 25 and received large majorities in the country districts. Light vote polled.

White County.

Cleveland, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—The total vote cast for Terrell and the state ticket in this county was 866. County gave Candler 507, Ross 1.

Mitchell County.

Camilla, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—Ross and Candler tied, receiving 156 votes each in Mitchell county.

Haralson County.

Buchanan, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—For governor Haralson county gives Terrell 884 and Hines 750. Ross gets 205 majority over Candler. Official returns shows that Hutcheson, republican-populist, has defeated Phillips, democrat, for representative and Goldin, populist, has been elected senator. The populists also succeeded in reelecting Sheriff Sheinut over Parker by a majority of 12 votes. All the other democratic candidates were successful.

Stewart County.

Lumpkin, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—The consolidated returns today show that Candler carried this county by 67 majority. The special interest centered in the race for representative. G. Y. Harrell, who was nominated in the primary in May last, was opposed by J. D. Crumbley, a wealthy planter. He is a cousin of the senator from this district. After a spirited contest Crumbley defeated Harrell by 227 votes.

Henry County.

McDonough, Ga., October 2.—(Special.) Three hundred and sixty-three votes were polled in the election in Henry county yesterday. Judge Candler received 271 and Judge Ross 92.

Johnson County.

Wrightsville, Ga., October 2.—(Special.) There was a heavy vote polled in Johnson county for all the state house officers. Candler carried the county by 300 majority. Everything passed off quietly.

Webster County.

Preston, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—Candler will beat Ross 75 votes, estimated. Full state ticket elected by 300 estimated majority.

Dawson County.

Dawsonville, Ga., October 2.—(Special.) Dawson county gave the state house officers 805 votes. For judge of the supreme court J. S. Candler's majority was 589.

Screven County.

Sylvania, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—In this precinct today 168 votes were polled. Candler received 86 and Ross 76. Other precincts not heard from.

Fannin County.

Blue Ridge, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—Contest between Candler and Ross very close. Estimated vote cast for state ticket 1,600. Allen leads for senator in this county. Indications are that the entire democratic ticket of the county is elected by a majority of 200 for first time in county's history, Fannin being ordinarily republican by a majority of 300.

Gilmer County.

Ellijay, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—Gilmer gave Terrell 1,127; Candler 356; Ross 14.

Monroe County.

Forsyth, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—The state election on yesterday was the quietest for years. A very light vote was polled. Forsyth precinct gives 153 for Candler and 64 for Ross. Monroe county is undoubtedly for Candler.

Hancock County.

Sparta, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—Hancock goes for Ross by 11 majority; 377 votes polled.

Tatnall County.

Reidsville, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—Tatnall's vote for state ticket was 1,267. Ross received 697; Candler 546; senator second district, Dr. J. L. McLean; representatives, Henry Mann and C. S. T. Strickland.

Baker County.

Newton, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—Only a very small vote was polled in this county in yesterday's election. The state ticket was voted with practically no scratches. Ross carries the county for supreme court judgeship.

Pike County.

Zebulon, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—The official vote of Pike gives the state ticket 517. Candler 316 and Ross 202. No opposition to the nominee for state senator and county officers.

Butts County.

Jackson, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—Candler carries Butts county by good majority. Very small vote polled in county—about 400. Only about 164 in Jackson precinct. Impossible to obtain exact figures. No enthusiasm and very little interest was felt.

McIntosh County.

Darien, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—Candler's majority over Ross was 100. Votes cast for state ticket 243. Rogers' majority over Mansfield, democratic candidate for representative, 180 votes.

Berrien County.

Nashville, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—Berrien county gave Terrell 440, Candler 241 and Ross 172.

Coffee County.

Douglas, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—The election in this county has been so close that it was impossible to determine the result until the official count came in. This has just been made. The populists did not vote the state ticket, which has gone through with an average majority of 1,285. Candler beat Ross by 500. The contest for county offices resulted in T. J. Paulk, populist, beating C. A. Ward, democrat, for representative, by 8 votes. W. H. Southerland, democrat, beat W. M. Davis, populist, for sheriff, by 34. Wall, democrat, beat Kirkland, populist, 31, for tax receiver. The balance of the populist ticket was elected by from 6 to 100 majority. Ward will contest Paulk's election. F. L. Sweat was chosen for senator from the fifth district, he having no opposition.

Richmond County.

Augusta, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—The vote in Richmond county, with three small country precincts to hear from, shows a total for Terrell and state house officials and Richmond county officers, of 820. The remaining precincts will hardly raise the total above 850. In the judgeship race Ross got a good vote in two of the city wards, and his total is 231. Candler's is 598. About one-fifth of the registered voters went to the polls.

Liberty County.

McIntosh, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—The election passed off quietly in Liberty. John S. Candler carried the county by a big majority. R. S. Hendricks defeated H. F. McKay, colored, for the legislature by a large majority. C. J. Martin was elected over Zorne and Clark for tax collector. John A. Jackson defeated E. B. Way, the incumbent, for tax receiver. Sheriff Brewer was reelected over Miller and Dryer.

Schley County.

Ellaville, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—One hundred and sixty-five votes were polled in yesterday's election in Schley county. Ross got 45, and Candler 110.

Laurens County.

Dublin, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—Laurens county gives Ross 567 and Candler 337. The total vote in the county was 1,500. The democratic majority over the populists was 700.

Effingham County.

Guyton, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—Candler carried Effingham county for justice of the supreme court by a good majority. All the regular democratic nominees were elected without opposition.

Franklin County.

Lavonia, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—Franklin county has gone democratic after eight years' populist domination, electing the entire ticket with the exception of tax collector, which is held by J. H. N. Payne, the incumbent. B. H. Burton, for representative, and E. S. Clodfelter, for sheriff, were elected by over 300 majority. John S. Candler carries the county for associate justice. This is perhaps the last fight the populists will make in this county.

Twiggs County.

LaGrange, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—In the election yesterday J. M. Terrell received 656 votes and J. H. Hines 13 for governor. For associate justice of the supreme court John S. Candler received 443. John P. Ross received 122.

Talbot County.

Talbotton, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—Official returns for Talbot county show 32 majority for Ross over Candler. Total vote of county 385, not half of registered vote.

Brooks County.

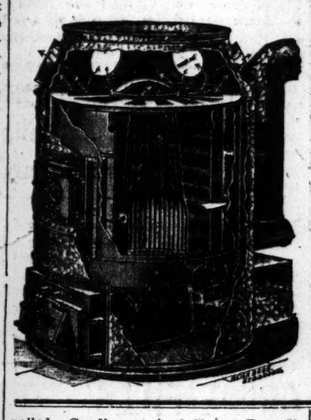

Quitman, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—Returns consolidated this afternoon. Total vote state house officers and for county 479. Candler's majority over Ross 360.

Warren County.

Warrenton, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—Yesterday's election was the most quiet

THIRTY-EIGHT STUDENTS IN LAW CLASS AT MERCER

Macon, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—With the exception of last year Mercer's law class is the largest in its history. Thirty-eight men have matriculated in this department.

The percentage of college graduates in this class is much larger than it has been heretofore, there being a good number of graduates from the University of Georgia, Emory college, Dahlonega and other colleges in other states.

After the recitation under Mr. Steed Tuesday night the class met and elected its officers for the year.

J. B. Wall, of Locust Grove, Ga., a graduate of the literary department of Mercer last year, was elected president. Mr. Powell, of Valdosta, a University of Georgia man, was elected vice president. Mr. Howard, of Cedartown, a Dahlonega man, was elected secretary and treasurer, and Mr. W. H. Long, also of Mercer, was elected historian.

After appropriate speeches acknowledging the honor by those elected the class adjourned to Lamar's drug store, down town, where refreshments were served at the expense of the successful candidates.

LIGHT VOTE HOPE OF REPUBLICANS

Party in Alabama Will Make Hard Fight.

Nominations Made in Each of the Nine Districts, and Hot Campaign Is Anticipated—First Gun To Be Fired by J. W. A. Smith.

Birmingham, Ala., October 2.—(Special.) While the new white republican party has made nominations for congress in all of the nine Alabama districts, the conservative leaders of the party are willing to admit that a really serious fight will be made in only two of them—the fourth and the seventh. When the democratic party was torn up a few years ago by the secession of the populists, the allied opponents of the organized democrats carried these two districts. They were subsequently redeemed, however, and two good democrats—Hon. Sydney J. Bowie, of Talladega, and Hon. John Burnett, of Gadsden—are their representatives in congress.

The republicans in these districts are hinging their hopes on the small vote cast in the recent primary, as compared to the registered vote in the counties in these districts. In the fourth district the vote in the primary last month was 6,628, while the registered vote was 15,327. In the seventh district the difference was even wider, the vote in August being 6,234 and the registered vote 24,648. Statistics show that, in no election, is more than 80 per cent of the vote ever polled, and, with the other 20 per cent and those who failed to pay their poll taxes subtracted, it will be seen that if Mr. Bowie receives as many votes as were cast in last month's democratic primary he will win easily.

The status in the seventh district is not so encouraging, but the fact that there is a republican nominee and an independent candidate to divide the anti-democratic vote, that Mr. Burnett may have no difficulty in succeeding himself. He is exceedingly popular with the men of all parties in his district, and thoughtful politicians consider that his chance is better than that of either of his opponents.

A spirited campaign all along the line will be commenced in a few days, the first big republican gun to be fired at Russellville, by Hon. J. W. A. Smith, republican nominee for governor, on October 6.

LOAD OF SHOT PIERCED HEART

John Makepeace Commits Suicide at Greensboro, North Carolina.

Greenstoro, N. C., October 2.—(Special.) John Makepeace, a prominent and wealthy sash and blind manufacturer of Sanford, shot and killed himself today at noon.

There was no suspicion as to his intentions until the report of a gun was heard. In his room he had placed a pillow on the floor to break his fall. A shotgun was lying by his side, and the nature of the wound was such that it was seen that he had placed the muzzle of the gun at his breast and pulled the trigger. The contents of the weapon pierced his heart and death ensued instantly.

Confirmed melancholia is supposed to have led to the rash act. His business and family relations, so far as known, were perfectly satisfactory to himself. He leaves a widow and grown children.

Fate of L. & N. Employees.

Birmingham, Ala., October 2.—(Special.) The employees of the Louisville and Nashville railroad in Alabama are very apprehensive as regards their future status with the company. There are rumors that the Atlantic Coast Line proposes to run the road to suit itself, and will make changes in policy and methods. The presumption is that a change in methods means a change in men, and several thousand employees in good positions are apprehensive. A successful railroad man who has no connection with the system said to The Constitution's correspondent tonight that there was little probability of any notable changes being made. The Louisville and Nashville was an admirably managed road, he says, and nobody knows it better than the controlling heads of the big corporation which has acquired it. He predicts that President Smith will be retained, and that practically every faithful employee will remain undisturbed.

The Louisville and Nashville management in Alabama is exceedingly popular and any radical changes would injure the company in business and in politics.

Arrested in Macon.

Macon, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—This morning a negro named George Harrison, of Houston county, was arrested in Macon by Policeman Jones on the charge of shooting a negro named Caesar King and also on the charge of carrying concealed weapons. The alleged offenses were committed in Houston county last Saturday night at a church festival. It is said that Caesar King was not fatally hurt.

WAR DECLARED ON COTTON OIL TRUST

Federal Courts of Mississippi To Investigate.

Papers Served on Managers of Columbus Mills by Deputy United States Marshal Ordering Them To Appear Before Court at Aberdeen.

Columbus, Miss., October 2.—(Special.) The alleged cotton oil trust, in which all the oil mills of the state are said to be operating in connection with, will again occupy the attention of the federal courts of Mississippi this fall. These cases were tried in Jackson last year, but on account of insufficient evidence the state was unable to prove that there was a trust existing and nothing could be done.

E. T. Sykes, Jr., former cashier of the Mississippi Cotton Oil Company's mills here, gave the state senate at Jackson all the inner workings and rules upon which the alleged trust is said to exist and it is chiefly upon Mr. Sykes' testimony that the present indictments are based.

R. J. Warren, deputy United States marshal of Aberdeen, Miss., was here yesterday and served papers upon Captain D. P. Davis, manager of the Columbus mill of the Mississippi Cotton Oil Company, and R. L. Lewis, the former manager of the Columbus Cotton Oil Company, ordering them to appear in Aberdeen before the federal court on the 6th of the present month.

It is learned that all the managers of the different mills now doing business in what is called the northern federal district, which includes all mills from Corinth to Meridian, will be summoned to appear in Aberdeen at this date. The managers of the other mills throughout the state will be summoned to appear at other courts as soon as the Aberdeen cases are disposed of.

The Ohio supreme court has announced that the suspension of the Cleveland judgment of ouster would be extended until November 20. The application was made by Solicitor Baker on behalf of the Cleveland city government.

FATHER TO HANG, SON GOES TO PEN

Murderer of Roadmaster Stevers Found Guilty—North Carolina News.

Raleigh, N. C., October 2.—(Special.)—Joe Cole, Sr., who murdered Roadmaster George Stevers on a Seaboard Air Line train near Henderson, was convicted of murder in the first degree at Henderson this afternoon and Joe Cole, Jr., his son, was convicted of murder in the second degree.

Old Cole was sentenced to be hanged and his son to thirty years in the penitentiary. Cole, Jr., shot Train Porter Mitchell, who was attempting to save the life of Conductor Clements.

North Carolina News Notes.

The Croatan Indians, who all live in Robison county and who are the original Croatans from Tyrrell county, intermixed with the descendants of the English colonists sent over here in 1583-84 by Sir Walter Raleigh, have their own schools. The state superintendent of public instruction today received the annual report on these schools. It is not encouraging. There are 1,764 Croatan children of school age and of these only 771 are enrolled in the public schools, while the average attendance is but 433. There are twenty-one school districts and thirteen Croatan teachers. No fewer than 444 between the ages of 12 and 21 cannot read or write. There are 608 Croatan polls and the value of all their property is only $153,883.

The statement is made that in this part of the state 75 to 85 per cent of the cotton crop is already picked. The extraordinarily fine weather results in making the crop somewhat larger than was expected two or three weeks ago.

The report on the state school for the white blind here shows 165 pupils present, while the total of blind children in the state is about 225. It is said the attendance here is better than in any other state and that the school is the third in size in America. There are 230 white deaf mutes in the state school for deaf mutes at Morganton. In the state school for negro blind and deaf mutes here there are present 65 blind and 110 deaf mutes.

The 415 cadets at the State Agricultural and Mechanical college here will all be uniformed by the end of the present week.

The state charters the William Schuette & Co. lumber company of Bellhaven, Beaufort county, capital $300,000, William Schuette, of Saginaw, Mich., being the principal stockholder. A charter is also granted the Noland-Brown Coffin Company, of Asheville, capital $12,000.

The Russian ministry of finances is about to increase the tariff on foreign wines and brandies to about 87 1-2 cents per bottle for still wines, $1.17 1-2 for sparkling wines and nearly $1.50 for brandies.

MANAGER CALLS BIG MEETING ELECTION FRAUD

Dothan, Ala., Box Examined Before Votes Were Polled.

Story That There Were 150 Ballots in Box Before Voting Began Branded as False—Other Alabama News in Brief.

Montgomery, Ala., October 2.—((Special.) The managers of the election at Dothan stoutly deny that there was any fraud in the primary election.

One of them issues a card in which he says that he particularly opened the box before the voting began, and felt in it and examined it carefully, and the story of 150 ballots being there to start with is all stuff.

In the meanwhile, though the new county men in Henry seem sure of election, Dale and Geneva, the other counties from which slices would come to form the new county, are preparing to make a fight against it. Discussion of a name for the sixty-seventh county develops considerable sentiment in favor of Schley.

Profits from Convicts.

The quarterly report of the convict bureau submitted to the governor today showed a short crop on the state farm, the corn being less than half. The financial statement shows the total receipts for the past twelve months were $185,405.53, and the total expenses $90,051.15, leaving a net profit of $95,354.38. The profit is about $3,000 in excess of last year.

Circuit Clerk Short.

State Examiner Gorman today filed a report on the Bullock county officers. Circuit Clerk Henry Stinson had failed to remit $137 collected on removal bills and solicitors' fees. Other errors were trifling.

Enterprising Physician.

Dr. J. W. Nicholson, an enterprising doctor of Centreville, is reported by the local papers there as building his own telephone line out into the country for the benefit of his patients and for the people generally who might need a doctor. It is a novel scheme for the development of a country practice and is said to be working admirably.

Republican Candidates.

The republicans have filed their certificates of nomination of their state ticket in the office of the secretary of state. Several of the congressional nominations have not yet come to hand, and October 5 is the last day. The doubtful situation in this, the second, district has been cleared up by Mr. Sternfield filing his certificate of nomination, which is in every respect regular, and by his announcement that he will make a vigorous fight. Colonel Wiley's objection seems to be confined to the expense of having opposition and does not include any danger of defeat.

Brick Industry.

The brick industry at Columbia is of some importance to that flourishing little town. The output this season has been 400,000, and the payroll has turned loose $800 monthly among the stores.

Democrats Confident.

The confidence of the democrats in face of the full republican ticket is illustrated by the fact that they have not yet named their campaign committee. Chairman Lowe is still waiting on the return of Governor Jelks, whom he wishes to consult, but it has not been deemed sufficiently urgent to cut short the governor's trip to the east.

Republican Nominees.

Montgomery, Ala., October 2.—(Special.) The republican county convention of Elmore, at Wetumpka, today nominated Spencer J. McMorries, of Wetumpka, and Millard F. Berry, of Deatsville, for representatives in the legislature, and Norflet Ivy, of Deatsville, for superintendent of education. They will make a hard fight for the county. It has not yet been determined whether a candidate will be put up for the senate in the Elmore-Tallapoosa district.

Mississippi Doctors.

Jackson, Miss., October 2.—(Special.)—The Mississippi state board of health meets in Jackson on the 14th of October for the purpose of examing applicants for license to practice medicine in the state. It is expected that about sixty young medicos will apply for license. The announcement is made by the board that no temporary licenses will be granted until several months after the regular meeting, and this action is intended to shut off the medical students who purposely avoid the fall examination and then apply for a temporary license to tide them over until the spring examination. Generally about 60 per cent of the applicants succeed in passing.

Poe Is Acquitted.

Chattanooga, Tenn., October 2.—(Special.)—Walter Poe, tried for the murder of Hyatt Springfield, in 1901, was acquitted by jury today. The killing grew out of a feud between the Springfield and Poe families. In the general melee Poe struck Springfield with a stone, killing him.

MAJORITY FOR CANDLER ABOUT EIGHTEEN THOUSAND

ever known in Warren county. The candidates having no opposition, there was so little interest taken that up to the present time all the precincts have not been heard from. This makes it impossible to give the entire vote of the county. Ross carried the county for supreme court judge, getting a majority of a hundred votes at this place. J. M. English goes to the legislature, his opponent, C. A. Culpepper, colored, receiving only thirty-six votes at this precinct. The state house officers having no opposition are, of course, elected. A very small vote was polled.

Jones County.

Grays, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—Ross carries Jones county by 150 majority. State ticket very light, about 175 votes.

Richmond County.

Augusta, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—Richmond county gives Candler 647, Ross 243.

Taylor County.

Butler, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—All the democratic nominees received practically unanimous vote in Taylor. Ross carried county for associate justice supreme court, receiving 181, while Candler received 43.

Gwinnett County.

Lawrenceville, Ga., October 2.—(Special.) Judge Candler carried Gwinnett county for associate justice supreme court, 499 votes being cast for him, while Ross got 287.

Wilkes County.

Washington, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—The consolidated vote of Wilkes gives Candler 196, Ross 130, Terrell 303, state house officers 306. The election was the most quiet and uninteresting that has been held in Wilkes in many years. Few knew it was election day until told and urged to vote. In the June primary Wilkes went for Guerry by small majority.

Putnam County.

Eatonton, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—In yesterday's election 187 votes were cast in the county. Of these Candler received 132 and Ross 55. Very little interest was manifested and the election passed off very quietly.

Spaldin County.

Griffin, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—The managers of yesterday's election met at the court house at 11 o'clock this morning and consolidated the returns. One thousand and fifty-three votes were cast in Spalding. W. M. Thomas, democratic nominee for clerk, defeated his opponent, J. A. Brooks, independent, by a vote of 746 to 300, a majority of 446. Judge Candler got in the county 487 votes to Judge Ross' 467. This was quite a surprise to Judge Candler's friends, as they had counted on a large majority for him. Of the state officers O. B. Stevens led the ticket, and of the county officers Harry T. Johnson received the highest vote. This election will prevent independents from opposing regular nominees in Spalding for some time.

Whitfield County.

Dalton, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—The official vote of Whitfield county in yesterday's election gives George G. Glenn, independent republican candidate for representative, a majority of 126 over Frank E. Shumate, the regular democratic nominee. The official vote also gives Cliff S. Carey, independent democrat, a majority of 13 over John S. Richardson, regular democratic nominee for county treasurer. The other county candidates had no opposition. Terrell received 1,190, Hines 378; Candler 702, Ross 189; Russell 216, Williamson 7. Dodd, for the senate, received 1,258. The balance of the state ticket received about the same vote.

Catoosa County.

Ringgold, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—The result of the election in Catoosa county is as follows: State officers, 771; Judge Candler's majority over Ross is 170; W. H. Yates elected representative; sheriff, John M. Evitt; tax collector, Jerry Pack; clerk superior court, J. R. Jones; tax receiver, J. A. Goodlet; treasurer, Ben F. Harris; Gordon Lee, senator from the forty-fourth district.

Carroll County.

Carrollton, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—Yesterday's election was the lightest in years. Only 2,500 votes were cast. This is nearly 800 less than the county primary this year, which barred negroes. All the democratic nominees were elected by good majorities. Eugene T. Steed and John T. Hixon were elected representatives from Carroll. Candler's vote for supreme court judge was 1,465, and Ross' 327.

Webster County.

Preston, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—The official count gives Candler 158, Ross 95, Terrell 276, which is very little behind the full vote cast in the county.

Wilcox County.

Abbeville, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—The political situation of Wilcox county is turned completely around by what may be termed a complete landslide. The same issue so well known over the entire state as the Wilcox county court house contest was as thoroughly aired, there being two tickets in the field for county officers, the Rochelle ticket and the Abbeville ticket. The consolidated returns today elects the entire Abbeville ticket by a majority of 400 votes. R. V. Bowen will represent this county in the legislature. Ross carries almost the entire vote of the county for supreme court judge. The state ticket received a vote of about 2,000.

Jefferson County.

Louisville, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—Ross carried Jefferson county by 103 majority, receiving 172 against 69 for Candler. Very light vote polled.

Bibb County.

Macon, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—The vote cast in Bibb county yesterday in the state election was consolidated today at noon at the county court house. The highest vote received by any candidate was 1,090, and this was cast for J. M. Terrell for governor and several of the state house officers. Though Bibb county is the home of Hon. DuPont Guerry, who was defeated by Hon. J. M. Terrell in the recent primary for governor, no animosity or prejudice was shown Mr. Terrell in yesterday's election on this account, and of the many candidates on the ticket not one received a higher vote than Mr. Terrell, and only a few received as many.

There was very little scratching.

The total vote for John P. Ross for associate justice of the supreme court was 1,085; Candler, 67. Ross' majority, 1,018.

Walker County.

LaFayette, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—Walker county gives the democratic state ticket 742 votes; populist state ticket 69 votes; Candler, for associate justice, 332 votes. Ross 260 votes. Count official.

CONSTABLE SHOT TO DEATH.

Dispute Over Officer's Authority Ends in Killing.

Birmingham, Ala., October 2.—L. F. Hollingquist, a constable, was shot and instantly killed tonight by William A. Murphy, a moulder in the Decatur car wheels works.

The shooting occurred in a saloon on Avenue F, and was the result of a dispute over the right of the constable to search a man for a pistol.

Franchise Fight.

Birmingham, Ala., October 2.—(Special.) It is announced that the litigation between the Seaboard Air Line and the 'Frisco system over the franchises granted the former by the city and county authorities here has been abandoned and the appeal will not be argued in the supreme court. This is taken to mean that the Seaboard Air Line and the 'Frisco have formed an alliance in obedience to logical conditions, and that the former company will get its line into Birmingham much earlier than had the impediment of legislation not been removed.

If a child is born especially beautiful, is not its every feature to be considered the smile of love and denote too the care and attention the mother had given her throughout the entire period of gestation and childbirth. On the condition of the mother during pregnancy depends the nature, temperament, beauty and grace of the child. Among m nifold aids to childbirth MOTHER'S FRIEND has grown to popularity and gained a prestige among rich women as well as poor; it is found and welcomed in the mansion as well as cabin. EGYPTIAN COTTON PROVES SUCCESS

It Is Particularly Adapted to South-West Georgia.

STAPLE IS LONG AND SILKY

Easy of Cultivation and Picks at a Cost of 40 Cents Per Hundred Pounds—It Is Superior to the Sea Island Variety.

Quitman, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—C. N. Williams, a farmer living near here, has an acre and a half of cotton which has attracted much attention. It is Egyptian cotton, the seed of which he secured from a friend in Florida and planted as an experiment with the most satisfactory results. He states that the yield is heavier than that of short cotton and the staple is superior to that of the sea island cotton raised in this section. Samples of it have been on exhibition here, and he has been besieged with calls for seed by all the planters who have seen it. The staple is about 1⅛ inches long, very fine, and has a silky luster.

Mr. Williams sent a sample to the agricultural department of the United States and was advised by them that it was particularly well adapted to southwest Georgia and Florida. He finds it easy of cultivation and picks it at a cost of 40 cents per hundred. Mr. Williams is so well pleased with the result of the experiment that his entire crop for next year will be of this variety.

Wildcat Companies.

Jackson, Miss., October 2.—(Special.)—Wildcat companies by the score are attempting to capture the cotton insurance business in Mississippi, which has been refused by the companies of established reputation on account of the valued policy clause in the insurance laws. Commissioner Cole has placed on foot an attempt to prevent the wildcat business, and he gives out a list of over one hundred companies which are tabooed from operating in Mississippi. Yesterday he sent orders to Senatobia to arrest a man named A. Clark Hastings, who is writing risks at cut rates in unauthorized companies and without license as an underwriter.

Bishop George C. Harris.

Jackson, Miss., October 2.—(Special.)—Rev. George C. Harris, of Vicksburg, the vice bishop, has assumed charge of the Episcopal diocese of Mississippi, and will act as the head of the church in this state during the illness of Bishop Hugh Miller Thompson, who is now ill in New York. Bishop Thompson has submitted to a surgical operation, and owing to his advanced age much apprehension is felt over his condition.

According to The St. James Gazette, a Cardiff firm has booked a single American order for 15,000 tons of steam coal.

The Negro's Right To Work.

There is a phase of the negro rights question that is too often dexterously skipped by northern commentators. They are very glib and very abusive in much of their criticism of southern treatment of the negro in certain matters of selection and preference. It inflames their righteous souls that the negroes and whites have to ride in separate cars on steam railways and ignore the fact that they ride in the same cars on street railways. They are sad when they learn that in our theaters there is a "nigger heaven" in the galleries and they beat their breasts in holy indignation when a negro who has refused to qualify himself to legally cast his ballot is barred from the voting booths.

But when it comes to the weightier matter of justice and help to the negro in the matter of equal rights to labor, and do so without discrimination and fear of his life, there comes a most peculiar and significant dumbness to the lips of the average northern negrophile. In all the mob rule days in Pennsylvania and Indiana, in which white miners have assulted negro miners and had to be prevented by the militia from massacreing them en masse, very few of the Higginsons and Hales, and Crumpackers and Moodys, and presses like The New York Tribune and The Philadelphia Press and The Chicago Inter Oceans have ripped up their shirts and flung them into the air in protest against those "anti-nigger" crusades and in favor of the negro's right to work.

In another column today we print a letter from a distinguished Georgian living in Columbus, one of the leading industrial centers of Georgia, in which the actual, daily situation between white and negro mechanics is fully set forth. What he so graphically records of the equity of the treatment of the honest laboring negroes of that live city can be said as well of almost every other progressive community in the south.

Such things are not possible in the north. The labor unions will not permit them to occur. Nor do the people themselves exhibit sympathy with the equal rights of the negro to compete in fields of labor that have heretofore been monopolized by the whites. In the eastern cities few negroes are ever seen employed as butlers, coachmen, valets and the like. Few negro women can get admission to northern houses as cooks, seamstresses, nurses and maids.

The question is rapidly pressing itself upon intelligent negro thinkers in the south whether it is not better for their race to cultivate the southern idea of the relations between the races than to strive after the visionary northern ideal? When they fully understand the facts we do not doubt their verdict. They will unanimously prefer their right to work and prosper in material independence in the south than to seek the right to vote and the surety of starvation in the north.

Funston and the Canteen.

General Freddie Funston turns up as a fresh sensation-monger by including in his official reports a strong condemnation of the policy of congress in excluding the sale of intoxicating liquors in the post exchanges of garrisons and camps of the army. Aside from the natural joy which congress must feel in having the criticism of Philippine creeks and ...ptures, the opinion of ... As compared ... last year, there ... of 18.2 per cent, ...mber of this year ...gainst $33,215 for ... quarter ending September ... of this year shows a total of $108,319, as against $93,736 for 1901; $78,597 for 1900, and $72,035 for 1899.

The growth has been steady and normal.

It is well to mention in this connection that the receipts of a postoffice represent the sales of postage stamps, the postage on second class matter and box rents. This has nothing to do with the money order business. An idea of the vast amount of business which these totals represent can, perhaps, be best brought home by resolving the sums into one and two-cent postage stamps.

The figures here given present an object lesson of Atlanta's growth and prosperity which must be most gratifying to every citizen.

The Destitute Boers.

After England has fastened her yoke upon a subjugated people, the rest of the world is called on to toss a coin into the hat of charity. It has more than once been so in the case of famished India, and it is now so in the case of the impoverished Boers.

The appeal of Generals Botha, De Wet and Delarey to the civilized world for immediate assistance to the families of their war-wasted compatriots is meeting with a generous response. Mr. Phipps, a wealthy citizen of Pittsburg, contributed $100,000, and America is pouring coin large and small into this worthy relief fund. From the plain recital of facts made by the Boer generals it is evident that half of the misery of the extinguished Dutch republics in South Africa has not been imagined, and England is doing little to relieve the situation.

The British press resents the call for world-wide charity, coming from the source it does, as a reflection upon the empire's humanity and generosity, and, in a measure, as an act of bad faith on the part of the Boer leaders. Admittedly England cannot cope with the cry for bread swelling up from South Africa, and to endeavor to stifle it from sentiments of national pride while thousands of women and children are on the eve of perishing is nothing short of criminal. At the bottom of this English resentment can plainly be discerned a sense of shame or confusion over a fresh revelation of the extent of British brutality in th conduct of the late war. The reconcentrado meaures have borne their legitimate fruit, and England should maintain a guilty silence while the hat is being passed.

The Boer generals would be unworthy of their patriotic record did they selfishly content themselves with comfortable individual berths provided by British diplomacy as a sop, while their unhappy people were left to the husks of British benevolence. They have done right, and their motives will not be questioned when they say in their appeal: "The sword is now sheathed and all differences are silent in the presence of such great misery."

Billy Jerome has been jumping on the methods of organized labor in recent speeches. He had better confine himself to explaining why the roulette wheel still rolls around the tenderloin district.

Marion Butler is trying to breathe life into the dry bones of the valley of populism. Butler has a strong breath, doubtless, but it is hardly of the kind that will revive the dead.

Big Jim Parker is still capturing Czolgosz for the benefit of spell-bound northern audiences. Jim is not disposed to allow legal decisions to interfere with his sure thing graft.

Joe Manley says it would help the republican party to lose the next house to the democrats. He is probably fixing a soft place to light on after the eruption in November.

A Pennsylvania preacher advises hanging a few coal barons as a means to end the coal strike. It is a safe bet that Brother Baer doesn't belong to his church.

Tom Platt denies that he has been put on the back row of seats. It is hard, sometimes, for a has-been to get his latest geographical bearings in politics.

The president could not resist the temptation to monkey with the coal strike. But if he can only settle it much will be forgiven him on other accounts.

Why Senator Bailey has delayed making things warm for Penfield is now explained. Pen is taking an outing with the Dutch at The Hague.

Why doesn't the president make an omnibus job of it and invite all the other trust magnates to come up and arbitrate with him?

The republicans of New York are of mixed opinions as to whether the democratic nominee is a hard Coler or a soft one to run against.

If Mr. Littlefield wants to be speaker he should hurry up and demonstrate his trust remedies on the coal, beef and leather combines.

It is to be hoped the president will not have to quit his conference with the coal barons with a cold feet feeling at the ends of his legs.

Atlanta will now forget the fighting and move forward in solid column to realize the prophecies embodied in the primary's results.

Dr. Parkhurst has rigged up his universal blamer and gone to work criticising the whole official shooting match in New York.

Secretary Root denies that he wants to resign his office. We do not wonder that he characterized the report as silly. It was.

The president is not yet able to explain why he deems it necessary to have a constitutional remedy for statutory wrongs.

It didn't take David B. Hill long to decide between Devery and decency. David is an old and leary campaigner.

The salt trust has gone to smash and those who engineered it are headed up the Salt river of insolvency.

The latest war bulletin announces that General Corbin and his wardrobe have reached London safely.

The Jewish New Year.

Yesterday was the Jewish new year and was celebrated by our fellow-citizens of that faith with their accustomed fidelity and devotion, and with those social functions which were proper to the occasion. The festival is one of the most ancient that has come down to us through the cycles of time and retains for the chosen people all of its solemnities and significance.

Atlanta contains a large representation of those who are of the Hebrew race and faith and it is matter of local history that no element of our varied population has been more conservative, enterprising, patriotic and profitable to the city than these same Jewish citizens. They have always stood for pure homes, for clean government, for civic progress, for education and for the moral advancement of Atlanta. They have been honored with foremost positions in our commercial, financial, social and political life. And no single betrayal of public trust and honor has ever been chargeable to one of them.

In return they have added greatly to the business interests of the city, have joined liberally in every public-spirited movement and have brought to us institutions of charity, religion, finance, trade and industry that have been profitable to every citizen of whatever race and creed.

It is our privilege to rejoice with them in the celebration of their festival and wish them many joyous returns of its duties and pleasures.

The Growth of Atlanta.

There is no other way by which the growth of the business of a city is so well gauged as by that city's postal receipts. The official figures for Atlanta and other southern cities which have just been promulgated by the auditor for the postoffice department bears striking testimony to Atlanta's pre-eminence.

In this report of the department auditor some very interesting facts are brought to light. The record of the different southern cities as shown by this report is as follows:

Atlanta	$415,392
Richmond	316,797
Memphis	273,791
Nashville	261,119
Savannah	159,037
Birmingham	145,352
Chattanooga	145,061
Charleston	107,414
Knoxville	91,427
Macon	81,467
Augusta	67,761

A comparison of Atlanta with these other cities shows that the receipts for Atlanta are $9,212 more than the total receipts for Nashville and Chattanooga combined, the Atlanta total being $415,392 and the total of Nashville and Chattanooga combined being $406,180.

A similar comparison with Memphis and Knoxville shows that the Atlanta total exceeds the total for Memphis and Knoxville combined by $50,174.

Then again, take the returns for the seven cities of Georgia making the best showing in postal receipts. The record for Savannah, Macon, Augusta, Columbus, Rome and Brunswick is shown in the following table:

Savannah	$159,037.48
Macon	81,467.37
Augusta	67,761.61
Columbus	38,109.51
Rome	21,627.77
Brunswick	16,364.09
Total	$384,367.83

Atlanta's total of $415,392 shows, therefore, a difference in Atlanta's favor over these six Georgia cities combined of $31,024.

That the growth shown by the figures for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1902, as given above, has been maintained since then is demonstrated by Postmaster Blodgett's report of re-

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

The Southern Way.

Editor Constitution: I have read with interest your editorial of the 25th on "Negro Rights North and South." In this connection I thought I would give you the benefit of a practical illustration of the difference north and south in the treatment of negro workmen. Just now in Columbus I happen to know of one instance at least showing the marked contrast. The Columbus iron works, one of the largest concerns here, is rebuilding its plant, which was destroyed by fire last spring. There are fifty odd brick masons now working on the brick walls of this structure, under the direction of James Carter, a worthy and most respectable negro contractor, to whom has been given the contract for doing the brick work of this mammoth concern. All over the building in different parts white mechanics are at work on other lines, but there is perfect and absolute good will between all parties, white and black. The same condition exists at the Girard cotton mills, another large concern in process of construction, where this same negro contractor, James Carter, has a contract for the brick work. It is no uncommon sight on any day in this city, which is just now on quite a building boom, to find on any street workmen, white and black, engaged on the same building, skilled mechanics as well as common laborers. While this is all true the lines are closely drawn socially, as, of course, you know, and when the work hour ends the respective races withdraw to themselves, and there is absolutely no social mingling, but during the work hours the white and black carpenter will work together at the same piece of work, and the white and black mason will work on the same wall. If there is any city in the southern states more thoroughly imbued than is Columbus with old-fashioned ideas as to the negro, it has yet to be found, and yet this is the treatment he receives as a laborer and mechanic in this town. The population is about half and half out of thirty thousand people, and yet the negro is made to know his place, but in all lines of honest work he is accorded the same consideration as a white man. Here are two of the largest concerns in this city, the Columbus iron works and the Eagle and Phenix mills (under the supervision of which the Girard cotton mill is being built) actually awarding to a negro contractor over white competitors the brick work of the two mammoth concerns. Our so-called friends in the north can well take this state of facts for thoughtful consideration.

TALKS ABOUT ATLANTA.

Douglass Breeze: Atlanta has something new every week.

Bremen Gateway: Atlanta didn't have a negro scratched in the Birmingham stampede. Strange, indeed.

Barnesville Gazette: It is about the time of the year for the Atlanta papers to begin their series of depot cartoons.

Cordele Daily News: A smouldering volcano has been discovered in Ohio. Atlanta is behind in the volcano business.

Taledega (Ala.) News: An Atlanta preacher practically says the Sunday newspaper has killed out the magazines and is now driving out the preachers.

Douglass Breeze: The preachers of Atlanta are preparing to wage a war on the Sunday newspaper. We once heard of a lunatic who shook his fist at the moon.

Cordele Daily News: Atlanta is always pushing and expanding. She is now to have a silk factory. Say what you please about Atlanta, the south admires her energy and enterprise.

Darien Gazette: The English correspondent who wrote of a tidal wave which swooped down on Atlanta and drowned fifty people was probably at the Atlanta car shed during a heavy rain.

Athens Daily Banner: Georgia has the best Sunday newspapers of any state in the union and yet a number of Georgia ministers are criticising them. The Sunday newspapers accomplish great good just as the ministers do.

Augusta Herald: Now Atlanta has claimed Bellen, the negro who caused the Birmingham trouble. Take him, we don't want him.

Albany Morning Star: And now Bobby Walthour is matched for a race with ten horses. What would Atlanta do without the great and only B. W.? Verily ennui would settle as a pall upon her strenuous life and the festive reporters for her big dailies "would sink into a dreamless rest an inanition." With Bobby as an unfailing refuge in a dearth of news, the great papers can feel secure.

The Birr county court of Ireland has upheld the decision of the crimes act court in the cases of Edmund Haviland-Burke, member of parliament, and Michael Reddy, member of parliament and chairman of the Birr rural district council, but reduced Mr. Burke's sentence to one month's imprisonment and omitted the hard labor in the case of Mr. Reddy.

At New Haven, Conn., Harry L. Dupuy, of Pittsburg, Pa., a Yale student charged with manslaughter in causing the death of D. Thorpe Munro, of this city, by an automobile collision last June, waived examination in the police court and was held in bond of $1,000 for the superior court.

ATLANTA'S CITY PRIMARY FROM ANOTHER VIEW

By Alan S. Rogers.

To a newspaper man familiar with the workings of the Quay camp in that greatest or republican strongholds, Pennsylvania, his first Georgia election held yesterday, was so far as sensation goes, a dismal failure. Imbued as he was with the prevailing sentiment of the north he placed a new pen in his pen-holder and with a bottle of red ink got ready to write blazing specials for some of the northern papers after wading knee deep in political gore.

The new pen will not find any possible excuse for writing and the red ink will be relegated to oblivion, a five cent monument to northern ignorance and republican prejudice.

It is a fact that up in the Keystone state, there seems to be a general impression still extant that a "white primary" is an institution in vogue in the south upon which occasion southern colonels come charging up to the polling places in red shirts and high top boots, a bowie knife in one hand and a six shooter in the other ready to shoot holes in the ballots opposite the names of their favorite candidates.

The Pennsylvania republican also believes that unless two or three of the candidates are burned at the stake, the primary is not considered "official" in Georgia and that after the polls are closed, every one connects with bottles of old Bourbon and from the light of negroes being burned at the stake after the manner of the human torches used by Nero, they proceed to serenade the elected man first, and tar and feather his opponent afterwards.

As a matter of fact, the newspaper man has seen more murder, sickness and sudden death in a single caucus of the "bloody tenth," the banner Quay ward of Philadelphia, than he was able to find in all of Atlanta yesterday.

Following the usual formula of similar occasions in the north, he stepped up to the police officer in charge of the booth and asked how many arrests had been made.

The officer looked down on him. "What arrests?" he asked.

The reporter tried to explain. And then the officer smiled and said that there had not been any. There hadn't been any trouble.

"How many men have been challenged?" he asked of one of the managers of a municipal polling place.

"None," answered that official, "every voter who has appeared has been found to be properly qualified and registered."

Then he went around to the polling place for the state ticket.

"Yes, we have found some twenty men who have been duly registered so far as the city is concerned but not in the county and state. They were challenged and the matter is now pending an investigation by the authorized registrators."

As this was the first bit of news that sounded the least bit like home the northern newspaper man had heard, he looked up expectantly and asked if the manager knew the names of any of those killed. There was another expression of pity on the official's face. "Don't try to get humorous or facetious," he said.

And it took the reporter a long time to convince him that he was in earnest, and it also took the official a long time to convince the reporter that such a thing could possibly happen without a list of dead and wounded as long as a battle in the Philippines.

"You see up among the quiet Quakers such an opportunity would have never been overlooked without a fight following that would probably have brought down two or three patrol wagons of police, while in the midst of the excitement the ballot boxes could have been properly stuffed with no possible chance of the inspectors of the opposition detecting any of the 'regularities' that would lead to the piling up of majorities for the candidate. Naturally I supposed that if such was the case among the quiet, peace loving Quakers, down here among the fire-eating southerners not a man would escape from the melee with anything less serious than mayhem. You see that's what we have challenges and riots for so that the returns will be in our favor no matter how the voting goes after the riot is over and the boxes have been stuffed with the proper number dictated by those in charge. I surely never felt so far away from home in all my life."

"Well, you certainly are a long ways from that sort of thing," rejoined the official. "This happens to be a land where the man who gets the most votes will be elected."

"Sort of a political paradise," interrupted the reporter.

"It must be according to your statement, and what's more, the saloons don't open when the booths close."

This was the last straw for the man who was used to seeing the front doors of the liquor places open with the echo of the voice of the officer declaring the election closed. "If everybody don't get drunk how do you know that there has been an election?" he asked.

"By giving the glad hand to the gentlemen who have been elected," replied the official.

And the newspaper man from the north returned to his office to throw away the new pen for which he could find no possible excuse and the red ink which had been a needless expense.

WORKING ON ASPHALT TRUST.

Plan To Reorganize the Combine Declared Operative.

Philadelphia, October 2.—The plan for the reorganization of the National Asphalt Company and the Asphalt Company of America, which are in the hands of receivers, was declared operative today. The two companies, representing the majority interests in both corporations, met at the office of the Commercial Trust Company and scheduled the assets thus far received. The report showed the holders of 88 per cent of the asphalt 5s had agreed to the majority plan, and it was at once declared adopted.

It was decided to extend the time for depositing securities until October 20.

The new holding corporation would be controlled by a voting trust consisting of Rudolph Ellis, William F. Harrity, Henry Tatnall, Alvin W. Krech and George Turnbull.

ETRURIA IS NOT IN TRIM.

After Winning Ocean Race She Has To Be Repaired.

New York, October 2.—The Cunard Steamship Company announced today that its steamer Etruria would not sail for Liverpool Saturday, October 4, as scheduled, a flaw having developed in the vessel's shaft. A new shaft has been ordered and the ship will remain here until November 1, her next regular sailing day.

The Etruria arrived here last Saturday from Liverpool, beating the White Star liner Celtic and the American line steamer St. Louis, both of which ships she passed in mid-ocean on Thursday night of last week. On her westward run she encountered heavy weather and head winds most of the way and her single screw shaft was subjected to a severe strain.

Republican Candidate.

Hohenwald, Tenn., October 2.—The republican executive committee of this, the seventh, district today selected Edward L. Gregory to make the race against Representative L. P. Padgett, democrat, in the coming campaign.

GOLDSMITH RAN FINE RACE

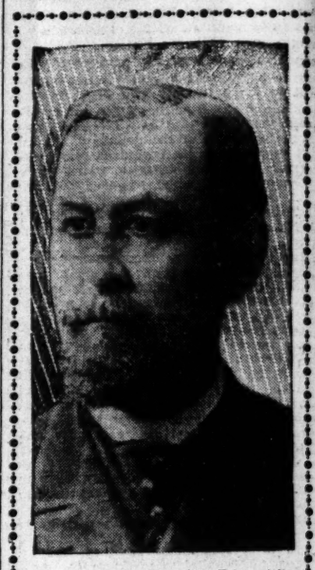

He Was Nominated for Comptroller by Vote of 4,376.

IS POPULAR CITY OFFICER

Has Been Connected with City Government Since 1874, When He Was Member of Council.

No contest in the primary of Wednesday attracted more general attention than the race between John H. Goldsmith and W. B. Stuart for city comptroller. Mr. Goldsmith was nominated for the office by a total vote of 4,376, while his opponent received 1,392.

Mr. Goldsmith has been city comptroller ever since the office was created by council in 1889, and no man connected with the city government knows more about the city's financial affairs than he. At the time he was made comptroller the business now transacted by that office was looked after by the city clerk.

The volume of the business, however, had increased so rapidly and had assumed such proportions that it was found to be more than the city clerk could do to look after the license business, the work of council and also the work which now devolves upon the city comptroller. Mr. Goldsmith was city clerk when the office of comptroller was established and he was appointed to fill the place. In those days the comptroller was appointed by the mayor and confirmed by council. Other city offices were elected by council, but later the plan of submitting the election of city officers to the people became of force and the comptroller was put on the same basis.

Mr. Goldsmith served as city clerk for eight years. Previous to that time he had served his ward in council. That was in 1874 and since then he has been actively identified with the city government. Years of constant labor for the city has put him in possession of facts and figures that make him peculiarly fitted for the high office he now holds. He has been instrumental in inaugurating a number of systems at the city hall that have systematized affairs and saved the city considerable money.

Personally he is popular, not only at the city hall, but throughout the city. He has been a resident of Atlanta for a long term of years and is acquainted with many people. This accounts, in no small degree, for his strong showing in the primary election. Mr. Goldsmith has two assistants in his office—John F. Kellam, the bookkeeper, and Paul Goldsmith, the assistant bookkeeper. Last year the office of auditor and requisition clerk was added to the list of city hall offices and was made a part of the comptroller's office. J. W. Collier, who was formerly collector of street improvements, is now the auditor.

DEAD BODY FELL IN WAGON.

T. R. Vickers Shot to Death in Louisiana, Horses Carry Body Home.

Shreveport, La., October 2.—T. R. Vickers, a prominent northwest Louisiana cattle dealer, and Edward Coglin, a public ginner residing at Hartso, just across the state line in Texas, quarreled at Coglin's home today over the disappearance of some hogs. Vickers was shot dead. His body fell in his wagon and the horses, becoming frightened, ran 12 miles, to his home. Coglin surrendered.

STAY OF EXECUTION GRANTED.

Jessie Morrison To Be Released on Bond in Kansas.

Topeka, Kans., October 2.—The Kansas supreme court today granted a stay of execution in the case of Jessie Morrison, now in the penitentiary for the murder of Clara Wiley Castle. The case will be heard by the supreme court in January. Miss Morrison's appeal bond was fixed at $10,000. As soon as this shall be given she will be released until the time of her trial. She was sentenced to fifteen years in the penitentiary.

TO NOMINATE GOV. CRANE.

Massachusetts Republicans Will Name State Officers.

Boston, October 2.—Without any political incident of note the delegates to the republican state convention gathered tonight at the American house, where the usual reception of the state committee to Governor Crane and Lieutenant Governor Bates, the latter to be the nominee for governor, was held. The plans for the convention are matured and there will be no contests for any of the offices.

FAILED TO KEEP HIS PROMISE.

New York Alderman Is Arrested on Novel Charge.

New York, October 2.—William Dickinson, of Brooklyn, member of the board of aldermen of Greater New York, was arrested today upon a bribery charge, quite out of the ordinary character, inasmuch as no money was involved. Commissioner of the Street Department John M. Woodbury is the complainant, and the charge is based on an alleged promise of the alderman to vote for measures before the board of aldermen which Commissioner Woodbury desires passed if the commissioner would reinstate one of the alderman's constituents.

PRIMARY VOTE CONSOLIDATED

Work Was Accomplished at Executive Committee Meeting Yesterday.

NOMINEES WERE DECLARED AFTER A BRIEF SESSION

Successful Candidates Given Three Days in Which To Subscribe to the Usual Oath—A Number Have Already Made Affidavits.

At a meeting of the city executive committee in the council chamber yesterday at noon the votes cast in the primary of Wednesday were consolidated. One or two small errors in addition were found in the published returns, and these were rectified. Clerical errors were found in the totals of some of the candidates, but they were not of such nature as to change a single result.

It was found that the vote for Thomas J. Peeples, for city treasurer, in the third ward should have been 841 instead of 845, a difference of four votes, and also that the vote in the sixth ward for Ed R. Hayes, for councilman from the fifth ward, should have been 370, instead of 372, a difference of two votes.

The following totals were announced:

For Hugh T. Inman, candidate for alderman from the sixth ward, 5,818, instead of 5,718; for M. M. Turner, candidate for council from the fourth ward, 5,867, instead of 5,767; for Ed R. Hayes, candidate for council from the fifth ward, 2,277, instead of 2,279; for J. M. Stephens, candidate for council from the seventh ward, 5,885, instead of 5,775; for James L. Mayson, candidate for city attorney, 5,911, instead of 5,811; for W. B. Stuart, candidate for city comptroller, 1,392, instead of 1,492; for E. T. Payne, candidate for city tax collector, 5,900, instead of 5,800; for R. M. Clayton, candidate for city engineer, 5,872, instead of 5,772, and for Thomas J. Peeples, candidate for city treasurer, 5,903, instead of 5,807.

Managers Complimented.

The meeting was presided over by Charles T. Hopkins, chairman of the city executive committee, and a number of the members were present. Managers from the seven wards were in attendance and made official report of the returns from their respective wards. Eleven of the successful candidates were present and subscribed to the usual oath required of nominees in the primaries.

On motion of Committeeman L. Z. Rosser the candidates receiving majorities were declared the nominees.

Chairman Hopkins said:

"Gentlemen, the ballots in this primary have been fairly cast and they have been fairly counted. The duty of the managers and clerks to this community has been faithfully discharged."

Upon motion of Mr. Rosser the nominees not present were given three days in which to subscribe to the oath. The necessary blanks are in the hands of City Clerk Campbell at the city hall. The nominees who were in the room signed the oath before Mr. Ewing, a notary.

Those subscribing were: Evan P. Howell, mayor; J. H. Goldsmith, city comptroller; Henry L. Collier, commissioner of public works; Thomas J. Peeples, city treasurer; J. S. Holland, councilman from the third ward; M. M. Turner, councilman from the fourth ward; John A. Hynds, councilman from the second ward; R. M. Clayton, city engineer; Martin F. Amorous, councilman from the sixth ward; Charles H. Girardeau, alderman from the second ward, and W. H. Terrell, councilman from the first ward.

When the meeting adjourned the managers and clerks of polls were paid for their day's work.

Special Election Returns.

About the same time that the primary managers were reporting to the city executive committee, the managers of the special city election met in the clerk's office and consolidated the votes cast in the election held for the purpose of electing a successor to Captain E. P. Howell to council from the seventh ward. Burgess Smith was the only candidate, and he was declared elected.

COLONEL HOOD PROMOTED.

Will Be Made a Brigadier General by President Roosevelt—He Will Then Retire.

Colonel Charles C. Hood, the popular commander at Fort McPherson, is to be made a brigadier general by President Roosevelt in recognition of his long and honorable service in the army.

Colonel Hood, it is understood, will retire as soon as he receives his commission in the higher grade.

Since his arrival at the post as commander of the Sixteenth regiment of infantry, Colonel Hood has won many warm personal friends in Atlanta and vicinity, and it will be learned with regret that he is to leave the post.

Among the others who will be advanced to the grade of brigadier general are Colonel Amos S. Kimball, of the quartermaster's department, stationed at New York; Colonel Chambers McKibbin, Twenty-fourth infantry, stationed in Montana. The advancement of these was made possible by the retirement of Brigadier General William H. Bisbee, who is now on his way home from the Philippines.

All the officers thus chosen for advancement are near the retiring age of 64 years, and but for the action of the president would have retired in their present rank of colonel. All of them saw service in the civil war, as well as during the recent war with Spain.

In return for the high honor thus conferred upon me I now pledge my best service for Atlanta and her interests. Very truly,

CAPT. HOWELL THANKS PEOPLE OF ATLANTA.

To the People of Atlanta:

I have already received through the mails and by wire such a large number of personal letters and telegrams of congratulation that it will be impossible to attempt individual replies for a number of days. I therefore take this method of thanking the people of Atlanta for the splendid support I received in my race for mayor.

The close of the campaign leaves my heart too full of gratitude to find place for bitterness, even if there were occasion otherwise, and I have only the kindest sentiments toward my late opponents and their supporters.

Atlanta has been good to me and to my people, and it shall always be my ambition to strive for Atlanta, her people, her progress and prosperity as long as life is left to me. Gratefully yours,

EVAN P. HOWELL.

THREE MEETINGS HERE NEXT WEEK

Association Southern Veterinary Surgeons Will Meet Tuesday.

WILL DISCUSS CATTLE TICK

Experiment Station Directors from All Parts of the Country Will Begin Three Days' Session in Atlanta on Tuesday, Also.

Next week will be a week of conventions in the state, and especially in Atlanta, all of which will be of interest to the state house officials. By a strange coincidence it happens that all of them fall on the same days.

The Southern Veterinary Surgeons' Association will meet at the Kimball house Tuesday, October 7, 8 and 9. Georgia has no state veterinarian, as is the case in many southern states, but the meetings will doubtless be attended by Commissioner O. B. Stevens, or Assistant Commissioner Wright, as the subjects which will come up for discussion will have a direct bearing on agriculture and farming as affecting the cattle and horses of the state. One of the prime objects of the convention will be the suggestion of some remedy for the cattle tick, which has been particularly disastrous to the cattle of the south.

The meetings will take place in the Kimball house.

The directors of experiment stations in all parts of the country will also meet in Atlanta October 7 to October 10. This meeting will be one of the greatest importance and a large gathering of agricultural experts is expected to attend. Various topics of interest will come up for discussion, particularly the subject of cotton culture with relation to more accurate means of estimating the annual cotton crop.

The other convention is the national farmers' congress, which meets in Macon October 7 to 10. Delegates to the farmers' congress will visit the state fair at Valdosta, after which time they will stop over at the Southern Interstate fair for two or three days.

Commissioners Stevens and Wright will make an effort to attend all three conventions at various times during their progress.

PRICE OF COAL GOING HIGHER

Anthracite Quoted at $12.50, but None To Be Had.

NO DECREASE IS IN SIGHT

Telegrams from Different Points in the Country Show That Similar Conditions Exist Practically Everywhere — Strike Causes High Prices.

Atlanta coal burners who have not already purchased will find upon inquiry that the price is climbing skyward. The price of coal advanced with the first of the month.

Jellico lump advanced to $6; egg coal to $5.75, and Alabama lump to $5. These prices are higher than have been seen in the retail trade in Atlanta for many years. Anthracite coal is quoted at $12.50, but there is none to be had at this or even greater prices, as the local supply is everywhere reported as completely exhausted.

There are no indications of a decrease in the present figures and there is a probability of them going still higher. Even if the big strike in the hard coal fields of Pennsylvania is settled, local dealers report that the present condition of prices will not be changed for the better until after Christmas. If the strike is not declared off, it is expected that the prices all over the country will go still higher.

The following table shows the prices governing the hard and soft coal markets in Atlanta and the five leading cities in the country:

	Hard.	Soft.
Atlanta..	$12.50	$ 6 00
New York..	21.00	10.00
Chicago..	25.00	6.50
Boston...	15.00	8.50
Philadelphia....	15.00	9.00

The following telegrams from different points in the country tell the story of the conditions which seem to exist everywhere:

Conditions at Boston.

Boston, Mass., October 2.—Anthracite costs $15 per ton in quarter-ton lots, no retail orders being taken for more than that amount. Soft coal costs from $8 to $9 per ton. Supply of both is very low. All wholesale orders for hard coal refused. Wood costs $16 per cord. Schools and hospitals for the greater part are struggling along from day to day. The New England Gas and Coke Company is producing a little coke every day, but the demand is so far in excess of the supply that no orders are taken.

Since Wednesday a week ago it has been impossible to buy coke. Supply of charcoal very scarce. The gas companies about the city have enough soft coal on hand to last them through the winter and they have published the announcement that the prices of gas will not be raised.

High Water Mark Reached.

Chicago, Ills., October 2.—Broadly speaking, there is no anthracite coal in Chicago. Dealers have a few scattered supplies, but these are all light and are being held for personal friends or old customers. Hence there is no quotation at present on anthracite, though sales have been made for as high as $25 a ton. One wholesale coal agent paid $14 a ton for four tons for his own use, because his wife was clamorous for it.

On bituminous coal, the Pocahontas lump variety, the best if its kind, which most furnaces can burn when broken up, the market price ranges from $6 to $6.50. Ordinarily the figure is $4. Cheap Indiana black coal usually around $2, is now quoted at $3 to $3.50, but the advance is solely for greed, as it is worthless for furnaces.

Philadelphia, Pa., October 2.—Anthracite coal is selling here at $15 a ton; bituminous coal at $9 a ton. Even at these prices coal is very hard to get. A few dealers have supplies ranging from 200 to 1,000 tons, but not of good coal, most of it being "buckwheat," a dust. A little coal is now coming in from the mines.

New York, October 2.—Coal ranges in price today from $20 to $22 for anthracite and about $10 for bituminous. There are probably 3,000 tons of coal on hand in Birmingham, Ala., October 2.—(Special.) There is no anthracite whatever here. None is mined and little is used in this district, crushed coke being a satisfactory substitute.

There is an adequate supply of soft coal on hand which can be bought at the mines for about $1.75 per ton. This allows a tremendous profit to the mine operators, and as a consequence the mines of the district are working overtime.

Memphis, Tenn., October 2.—(Special.)—There is less than a thirty days' supply of anthracite coal in this market under normal demand and prices range from $13 to $15 per ton. Soft coal prices, retail, range from $2.75 to $4 per ton.

Montgomery, Ala., October 2.—(Special.) There is no anthracite in Montgomery. The best lump grate coal, soft, is selling at $1.50. Dealers complain that it is hard to get and some degree of scarcity is threatened.

Raleigh, N. C., October 2.—(Special.)—Soft coal here is $7; not much on hand; anthracite $15; very little on hand.

Columbia, S. C., October 2.—(Special.)—Columbia dealers have not raised the price of coal. Antharcite $7.50, soft $6.

Jackson, Miss., October 2.—(Special.)—No anthracite on hand and none quoted. Soft coal $5 per ton. Stock about 11,000 tons; sufficient for local demand during winter.

Augusta, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—Antracite sells at $7 and $7.50 per ton. Best soft coal $5 and $5.50. Dealers pretty well supplied from purchases made last spring.

Macon, Ga., October 2.—(Special.)—Soft coal $6 per ton; anthracite $10 per ton. Good supply of soft coal; limited supply of anthracite.

MAYOR CALLS BIG CITIZENS MEETING

Prominent Men To Gather at Mayor's Office This Afternoon.

PLAN FOR THE CONVENTION

Will Arrange for Reception of College Presidents and Professors Who Will Meet in Atlanta Next Week—Many Letters Sent Out.

Mayor Mims yesterday addressed a letter to 150 prominent citizens of Atlanta requesting them to meet at his office at the city hall this afternoon at 4 o'clock for the purpose of taking such steps as may be deemed necessary for the reception and entertainment of the college presidents and professors, representing the leading colleges and institutions of learning in this and other countries, who will assemble here next Tuesday.

The educators will be in session for three days and they will meet in Atlanta to discuss matters of importance with reference and in the interest of the advancement of education. The meeting has attracted much attention all over the country, and some of the best known and most prominent educators will be here to take part in the business before the convention. The mayor thinks it eminently proper that these men should be accorded a warm welcome and be encouraged in their work.

Mayor Mims' Invitation.

The following is a copy of the letter sent out from the mayor's office yesterday:

Dear Sir: On next Tuesday about 150 college presidents and professors from the leading institutions of the United States will assemble in Atlanta to hold a three days' session for the advancement of education. Nearly all of them are men of national reputation. They are in touch with 30,000 students, who come from all parts of the country, and some from foreign countries. These visitors are in a position to exert more influence in good circles than almost any gathering ever assembled in this city.

In order that they may receive the attention due such a distinguished body, I have thought proper to call together a number of representative Atlantans, and lay the matter before them for such action as they see fit to take. You are, therefore, requested to meet in the mayor's office Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock for this purpose.

It is important that there should be a full and prompt attendance at the hour named, as there is no time to lose. Yours very truly,

LIVINGSTON MIMS, Mayor.

IN THE COURTS.

The case of Mrs. Anna Monk against the Atlanta Railway and Power Co., in which Mrs. Monk is suing the railway company for alleged damages to the amount of $50,000, went to the jury yesterday at 12 o'clock noon, and at a late hour last night a verdict had not been reached.

On account of the large amount involved in the case a hard fight has been made by the attorneys for both sides. The trial has occupied the time of the court for nearly an entire week. The verdict of the jury is awaited anxiously by a large number who have watched the case with a great deal of interest.

The hearing in the habeas corpus proceedings instituted by John H. Peoples against Mrs. Sallie Snider, his sister in law, for the possession of the two children of Peoples, which was to be had yesterday, was postponed by Judge Lumpkin till this afternoon.

At the hearing of the case on Thursday afternoon of last week the witnesses for Mrs. Snider's side of the case were heard, and testimony was given to sustain Mrs. Snider in her claim that she is not holding the children illegally.

At the hearing this afternoon Mr. People's side of the case will be heard, and an attempt will be made by him to show that Mrs. Snider has no right to keep the children in her possession.

Former Memphis Congressman Talks to Men He Captured.

Washington, Iowa, October 2.—Ex-Congressman Patterson, of Memphis, Tenn., spoke before the Washington County Veterans' Association tonight. Colonel Bell, of this place, introduced him. Colonel Patterson captured Colonel Bell's regiment during the civil war. Colonel Patterson said:

"You fought that the union might live, and a union worth surviving must be held together not by force, but by the bonds of patriotism. No country can remain free where men are coerced to accept its rule. There could be a Poland in the south with a Russia in the north. If free institutions could not endure in a republic divided against itself then, veterans, the greatest tribute I can pay you is to bring you the message that in all the south there is not one man who would, if he could, deny the flag and dissolve the union. We are one people, with one flag and one destiny. Your valor made this possible. It was the genius of America, the spirit of free institutions, the patriotism of the people, north and south, which wrought the result. Happy are the veterans who are spared to witness this consummation. What an inspiration to feel, on an occasion like this, that if, in the providence of God, we could, at this moment, communicate with the shades of Grant and Lee, they would give us their benediction."

City Federation Meets.

WITH the first days of this month Atlanta women in organized effort are holding their initial meetings for the year, and as usual there will be active work along lines philanthropic, educational and patriotic.

The City Federation held an important meeting yesterday morning at the home of the president, Mrs. Nellie Peters Black. The object of the meeting was to perfect plans for the entertainment of the delegates to the State Federation of Clubs, which convenes in Atlanta the morning of October 7.

At the meeting were representatives of the twenty-six women's organizations in the city, each representative expressing the cooperation of her organization in any plan that might be decided upon by the federation.

It was announced that as many as thirty-six clubs in various parts of the state would be represented in the state convention by a president and delegate, and that there would be, besides these official representatives, many visiting club women and fraternal delegates from out of the state, the convention to assemble during its various sessions several hundred women.

Besides a number of private entertainments to be given by prominent Atlanta club women, the executive committee of the City Federation, after fully discussing the social side of the convention, decided upon the following programme: Tuesday afternoon, general reception from 5 until 7 o'clock, to which will be invited all visiting club women, whether or not they come as official representatives; Wednesday, the first day of the convention, the Atlanta Woman's Club will entertain at luncheon; Thursday the Daughters of the American Revolution will give a luncheon, and Friday the Atlanta chapter, U. D. C., will give a luncheon.

To these luncheons will be invited the presidents and delegates of all federated clubs out of the city, the officers of the State Federation, the presidents of the federated clubs of the city, and the officers of the organization giving the luncheon.

Atlanta's hospitable women will open their homes to the visiting delegates and the convention will be one of the most significant and active bodies of women yet assembled in Georgia.

Among the brilliant private entertainments to be given during the convention will be that at which Mrs. A. McD. Wilson will be the hostess.

A visit to the West End flower show will be another enjoyable feature of the convention.

Delegates to New Orleans.

THE Atlanta chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, held an important meeting yesterday afternoon in the Woman's Club Rooms. Delegates to the general convention in New Orleans and the state convention in LaGrange were elected, the chapter to send besides the president, nine delegates to the convention.

To New Orleans the delegates elected were Mrs. Sarah H. Melone, Mrs. Plane, Mrs. W. P. Patillo, Mrs. W. A. Wright, Mrs. Joseph Thompson, Mrs. W. D. Ellis, Mrs. Alfred Truitt, Mrs. George Dexter, Miss Sallie Maude Jones; alternates, Mrs. P. H. Snook, Mrs. Ira Fort, Mrs. John Miller, Mrs. C. S. Arnall, Mrs. George Dowman, Mrs. C. E. Murphy, Mrs. W. W. McAfee, Mrs. Edwin Hale, Mrs. T. H. Austin. To LaGrange the delegates will be Mrs. Dalton Mitchell, Mrs. C. S. Evans, Mrs. Ira Fort, Mrs. Halle, Mrs. J. W. Thomas, Miss Annie Howard, Miss Jessie Mitchell, Mrs. S. M. Dean; alternates, Mrs. George Denman, Miss Sallie Maude Jones, Mrs. Robert Blackburn, Mrs. Winburn, Mrs. Belle C. Dykeman, Mrs. Boyd, Mrs. Alfred Truitt, Mrs. Zetner, Mrs. E. L. Connally.

Previous to the election of delegates there were many important business matters transacted. Mrs. W. D. Ellis, chairman of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, at the opening of the Soldiers' home, reported the success of that day. Mrs. Helen Plane rendered a report of the distribution of the $300 given by the Atlanta chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, for the chapel at the home. Mrs. Alfred Truitt, who represented the United Daughters of the Confederacy at the unveiling of the Walker monument, gave an interesting account of that occasion.

Mrs. Nellie Peters Black, president of the city federation, was present at the meeting and thanked the Daughters for their proposed hospitality at the time of the state federation, and Mrs. George Denman was appointed chairman of the lunch committee of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

There will be another meeting of the Atlanta chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, before the meeting of the state federation.

Miss Glenn Entertains.

MISS FLORA GLENN was the cordial hostess at a beautiful dinner party given last evening in compliment to Miss Lillian King and Dr. LeConte, whose wedding takes place next Wednesday afternoon.

The table, which was circular in shape, was unusually lovely in its decorations of pink carnations and violets. The centerpiece was o tall vase of carnations, and scattered over the table were bowls of violets and tiny white baskets tied with pink satin bows and filled with candy. Suspended from the chandelier to the center of the table were ropes of smilax twined with pink satin ribbon, which presented a pretty and graceful effect.

Miss Glenn wore a handsome gown of white chiffon and Miss King wore a becoming dress of white crepe de chine.

Those invited to meet Miss King and Dr. LeConte were Miss Ethel Akers, Miss Lucy Cobb, Miss Annie Council, of Americus; Miss Christine King, Mr. Lawrence King, Mrs. Henry Veach, of Adairsville; Dr. Cyrus Strickler, Mr. W. D. Thompson and Dr. Stephen Barnett.

Mrs. Barnwell's Party.

Mrs. Charles F. Barnwell entertained a large party of ladies at progressive euchre yesterday afternoon, the event being the first of the larger card parties of the season. Mrs. Barnwell's charming home was artistically decorated with roses, and at the end of the game an elegant luncheon was served. The first prize, a French water color in gold frame, was won by Mrs. T. J. Ripley; the second prize, a pair of silken hose, was won by Mrs. Maggie D. Morris.

Mrs. Barnwell wore a becoming gown of pearl gray crepe de chine.

A Delightful Occasion.

Mrs. Louise Green was the lovely hostess at a party given the Matrons' Carom Club, on Wednesday afternoon. Violets were the motif of this party, and every scheme showed the perfect taste of the hostess. The score cards were hand-painted violets. The first prize, which was won by Mrs. Bucher Scott, was an olive dish done in violets. The consolation was drawn for in a most original way. Each guest was presented with a bunch of violets, and the one finding the word "Consolation" concealed therein was Mrs. Hunter, and she was given a pin tray, hand-painted in violets. In the dainty refreshments served after the game were cakes in the shape of large violets, with violets painted on the frosting. Those present were Mrs. Bucher Scott, Mrs. John Cunningham, Mrs. John W. Pierce, Mrs. Richard L. Simms, Mrs. Edwin P. Ansley, Mrs. Thomas Martin, Mrs. Nellie Candler, Mrs. Everett Bidwell, Mrs. John Bucher, Mrs. Hunter, Mrs. Dr. Arbuckle, Mrs. E. P. Roberts, Mrs. Eugene Wilson, Mrs. J. P. Land, Mrs. J. H. Atlanta Woman's Success.

Mrs. Emma Gertrude Pollard's many friends and admirers throughout the south will read with pleasure the following from The Pensacola Journal, which is one of many tributes paid to her on her recent successful concert tour through Alabama and Florida:

"Mrs. Pollard's beautiful lyric soprano was heard to advantage in Stern's "Printemps," as well as a number of charming ballads, and the "Berceuse of Godard," with violin obligato. The brilliance and flexibility of her voice is remarkable; the runs and trills were rendered with perfect ease, and the sweet quality of her voice was brought out very noticeably in the ballads and lullaby which she gave with much sympathy pathy to the delight of the audience. Mrs. Pollard is a widely known vocalist of the highest order and is booked for many important engagements this season."

Luncheon to Mrs. Hull.

Mrs. William L. Moore entertained delightfully at luncheon yesterday in compliment to her aunt, Mrs. A. L. Hull, of Athens.

Women Have Gymnasium.

The coming of Miss Georgia Pennington, physical director of the Young Women's Christian Association, and the beginning of the athletic department of that institution is a source of great delight to a large contingent of Atlanta womn.

Miss Pennington is a graduate of Swedish gymnastics as taught in the Boston school of expression (Curry school) by Baron Posse.

She has had several years' experience in conducting a private gymnasium in Minneapolis and St. Paul, and the Young Women's Christian Association is fortunate in securing her services.

The new gymnasium opens with morning, afternoon and evening classes to accommodate all.

Measurements will be taken at the beginning and records kept for reference. When there is a doubt as to the advisability of gymnastics in any particular case consent must be brought from the pupil's physician, or, when this is inconvenient, a medical examination by a lady physician can be had at the association. The aim of the work is health and a normal development. The work consists of apparatus and free standing exercises, each exercise occurring at a particular time and place with a definite scientific reason. The work done is all round training, each part of the body being exercised during the lesson. There will be a constant progression in the work which makes it important that all intending to be members of the gymnasium this season begin at the opening of the term.

CIRCUS COMING.

Forepaugh & Sells Brothers Will Be in Atlanta on October 10.

There is pleasing information in the announcement that the great Forepaugh & Sells Bros.' united circuses will visit Atlanta in the near future. It is with this show that the now famous Diavolo created a genuine sensation by successfully looping the loop on a bicycle while the circus was exhibiting at Madison Square Garden, New York city, early this spring.

The date of the show here is Friday, October 10, when two performances will be given at the old Wheat street show ground.

The show is now on a tour of the leading cities of the south, and all records are being broken in point of attendance. This is, however, but a repetition of the phenomenal success scored in all the large eastern cities. In fact, the present season has so far proven the most profitable in all the history of American circuses. No doubt this fact is principally accounted for by the unusual quality of the attractions offered, prominent among them being, in addition to the sensational looping the loop, the Aurora Zouaves, wonderfully drilled soldiers; Minting, in marvelous unicycle ascensions on a spiral pathway leading 60 feet into the air; the famous Potter family of aerialists; the seven Gaynells, in a cycle whirl; Dallia Julian, the remarkable somersaulting equestrienne, and other attractions of almost equal merit. The show has been the recipient of enthusiastic praise by the metropolitan press of the country.

BANKS WANT TAXES PAID.

Seek To Have Taxes Refunded That Were Paid to Jackson County.

Attorney General Boykin Wright was yesterday appealed to to decide an intricate question of law involving taxes paid to Jackson county, which Banks county thinks it is entitled to.

H. & T. E. Atkins, of Maysville, which is situated part in Jackson county and part in Butts county, run a private bank. The bank building is located in Banks county and the owners live in Jackson county. For the past ten or twelve years the bankers have paid taxes to Jackson county and the officials of Banks county think they should collect this back tax.

The case is an interesting one from a legal standpoint and Attorney General Wright has not yet rendered any decision in the matter.

VALUE-MARK

Dorothy Dodd

With every step the sole of your shoe must bend. The proper place for it to bend is at the ball of the foot, never at the instep.

To make it bend at the ball two things are necessary: The sole must be extremely flexible while the shank or arch must be rigid.

Most shoes bend at the shank, soon losing their shapeliness and tiring the weak arch of the foot.

The "Dorothy Dodd" Shoe has a shank that supports the weak arch firmly. It will not bend. The shoe is sewn through and through, in a manner different from all other shoes, while the forepart or sole proper is extremely flexible and bends to every movement of the foot. NEW YEAR WAS OBSERVED

Interesting Ceremonies Observed at Temple.

FIRST DAY OF THE YEAR 5663

Rabbi David Marx Conducted the Services—Sweet Music Was Rendered by the Choir.

Appropriate and interesting religious ceremonies were observed by the Hebrews of Atlanta yesterday in the new temple in honor of the Hebrew new year.

Rabbi David Marx conducted the services, which were attended by an immense throng, the new temple being crowded to its utmost capacity to accommodate all the worshipers. Nearly every business house in the city owned or controlled by Hebrews was closed in honor of the day.

According to the Jewish calender yesterday was the beginning of the year 5663 A. M., the reckoning being from the creation of the world. In Hebrew the day is known as Rosh Hoshonah.

The religious celebration is one of the most important of the Hebrew religious days, and yesterday was observed by the orthodox members of the race everywhere.

The ceremonies observed at the temple yesterday were beautiful and picturesque in the extreme. The blowing of the shofar, in commemoration of the day on which the ten commandments were given by God to Moses on Mount Sinai, was one of the most beautiful religious ceremonies ever witnessed in Atlanta.

The music rendered by the Temple choir, under the direction of J. F. Richardson, was magnificant and inspiring. Music plays a leading part in the interesting ceremony.

Many of the Jewish holidays come during the month of October, and will be celebrated by the Hebrews of Atlanta. Commencing at sunset on October 15 will be observed the eight days of the tabernacle, which is in commemoration of the time spent by the Israelites in the wilderness.

Services will also be held in the temple on the corner of South Pryor and Richardson streets today.

ENTRY LIST WILL CLOSE TOMORROW

All Horse Owners Must Hand in Their Applications.

SHOW AN ASSURED SUCCESS

Many Additional Entries Have Been Received, and the Tickets Are Selling Rapidly — Other News of the Inter-state Fair.

The fact that entries for the horse show close tomorrow evening, Secretary Weldon, of the Fair Association, says he wants to see Atlanta people "get a move on themselves" and go to him at his office on the fair grounds or send to him and get blanks and make entries for their horses.

"The fact that there has been a very exciting election on this week," said Secretary Weldon yesterday, "has caused a great many owners of horses to forget that Saturday is the last day left for entries. Not that Atlanta is not going to be well represented, but because there will be so many foreign entries, local pride—'the Atlanta way'—should stimulate every man who owns a horse that has either style or speed or action to enter it for the third annual horse show.

"Yesterday and day before many Atlantans came in, but to my personal knowledge there are yet a great number who have delayed, and I want to give them notice that tomorrow evening is the last chance for entries.

"Generally speaking, everything for the success of the fair looks great. It is going to be a big show and in my opinion excel anything in its class heretofore undertaken.

"A great many northern concerns have taken space for displaying their wares and some of them are shipping whole car loads of goods. Horses for the races are coming in at a rapid rate, while the cattle show will be grand.

"Entries for the poultry show do not close until the 15th of this month, so it is hard to tell what number will be exhibited in that department, but from the numerous inquiries I take it that the chicken show will also be far ahead of previous exhibits. Of course, this is accounted for from the fact that the premiums are much larger than heretofore in this department, as in all other departments."

Other Items Concerning the Fair.

Complimentary tickets to the editors of papers throughout the state were mailed yesterday by the secretary of the Inter-State fair, and Editors' Day, Saturday, October 11, will doubtless see the city full of pencil pushers.

C. C. Jones, of St. Louis, wired the Fair Association yesterday morning that he had started a car load of horses for Atlanta to take part in the races each day during the fair.

The hundred new stalls have been completed at the fair grounds, and it is expected that they will all be filled by out-of-town participants in the horse show.

INJUSTICE TO H. A. SMITH.

Charge Made Against H. A. Smith by Dr. Joseph Jacobs Was Based on Misinformation.

Editor Constitution: An article appeared, for which I was not responsible, in your issue of October 1, with the above headlines, which doubtless, without this explanation from me, would do the young gentleman mentioned an injustice. I ordered the officer to make a case against Mr. Smith under a misapprehension of the facts. I did not know him, but on the morning preceding his arrest in the afternoon I had contributed to a charitable cause for which he and another gentleman were soliciting contributions. And when I saw him in front of my place of business in the evening I was misled by the remarks of another person and acted hastily in ordering his arrest. Yesterday I saw from the character of the gentleman who came voluntarily to speak for him, that he had honestly solicited my contribution, with others, and had promptly delivered the money to the person for whom the same was intended.

Honorable gentlemen assured the court and myself of this fact, and Judge Broyles promptly dismissed the case. My hasty act was an honest error. I thought I was acting right, but having ascertained all the facts, know now that I did the young man an injustice, and desire the public to know that he is guilty of no wrongdoing to my knowledge. And I, therefore, have apologized to him, amicably adjusted the mistake, and take this method of setting him right as a matter of justice before his friends and the general public, who may have read the article referred to in the headnote of this card, as I would not intentionally do any one a wrong or injustice. Very respectfully,

JOSEPH JACOBS.

LARGE LEATHER CONCERN PREPARING TO TRANSACT TREMENDOUS BUSINESS

General Office Building and Ware House of the Allen-Miles Company, Being Erected on Marietta and Earl Streets.

THE CONSTITUTION publishes this morning the first perspective view of the general office building and ware house of the Allen-Miles Company, the recently organized largest tannery firm in the southern states.

The building is now in the course of erection on the corner of Marietta and Earl streets, at a cost of about $20,000. When completed it will be four stories high, 50 by 160 feet, and with a floor space of 40,000 feet.

The upper stories of the building will be occupied by the general offices of the company, while the basement will be used as a hide cellar. The basement has been constructed with the specific object in view of containing hides, so that there will be no offensive odors to escape, as is usually the case from these places.

The Allen-Miles Company is the result of a recent merger of the two large interests of E. O. Miles & Co., of this city, and C. L. Allen & Co., of Buford, Ga., the result of which merger will be the bringing to Atlanta of the largest leather concern in the south.

The tannery proper, which will be built some distance out from the city, will be the largest tannery under one roof in the United States, and that means the largest in the world. This gigantic industry will give employment to 1,400 men, and will be the means of bringing to Atlanta and the south millions of money.

The plant will cover 100 acres and will be the most modernly constructed tannery in America. Architects who do only the work of planning tanneries are now at work on the plans for the huge plant.

It is the intention of the promoters of the enterprise to have around the tannery a model community. Schools and churches, libraries and places of amusement will be erected for the use and benefit of those who will work at the plant. In fact, the location of the tannery proper will be nothing less than a little city of about 1,500 inhabitants.

The establishment of an industry like this will mean much for the development of Atlanta and the south, as there is nothing like it in any of the southern states. It will mean that the very best prices will be paid right here in Atlanta for such things as hides, wool and tallow, and there will no longer exist the necessity of shipping these articles to other marts in order to get their market value.

The leather industry is now the third largest industry in the United States, and the fact that such a large part of this industry is coming south is indicative of the fact that the south is becoming the center of all industries, and that it should seek Atlanta as its home is but proof positive of the fact that Atlanta is the center of the industrial south.

Besides doing a large local business, the Allen-Miles Company expects to do a tremendous foreign business, especially with Germany and France.

The company expects to move in its new office building by the 1st of December.

CURIOUS THINGS HAPPEN IN THE VOTING BOOTHS

SOME curious things happen in the little booths behind which the voters now prepare their ballots in the primaries held under the Australian system.

A manager at the third ward was talking to a reporter of The Constitution yesterday about the idiosyncracies of some of the people who exercise their right of suffrage under a system which keeps them from getting coached as they used to do when you could vote any kind of a ballot in any sort of way.

Under the old system a man could have his ticket fixed up for him on the "outside" and he could carry it with him to the ballot box. Ignorant people could be voted in that way like sheep. Under the new system the "official ballot" can only be secured from an election manager. It contains the names of all the candidates, and when you vote you scratch out all except the candidate for whom you wish to vote.

This scratching of names is where the uninitiated voter shows his ignorance.

"In our ward over a hundred ballots were worthless," said the third ward manager. "I do not mean to say entirely worthless, but worthless in regard to some of the candidates. A number of voters thought they had to scratch the name of the person they wished to vote for—checking him, as it were, and this caused many candidates to be scratched who had no opposition. We found tickets with nearly all the names scratched off. There was one ticket that had every single, solitary name marked out with a blue pencil. That fellow must have been hard to please. On a ticket opposite the name of a candidate were the words: 'Damn him.' Opposite another name we found written: 'Good boy.' A voter who doubtless could neither read nor write went into the booth and after taking fifteen minutes to 'fix up' his ticket, came out and handed us his 'dummy' by mistake. An old man came in, got a ticket and after asking all sorts of questions about how to do and taking up lots of our time, he ascertained he had not registered. He did not even know what registering meant. I was amused at a voter who carefully jotted the number of his ballot in a notebook. He remarked that he had kept the numbers of all his votes for thirty years and said that in all that time there had been no duplicates. He seemed to have a desire to vote the same number twice. But the queerest of all the tickets we came across was one on which a voter had scratched out the name of two candidates, running for different offices, and then rewrote them so to change their positions. He had a choice about which man to vote for first."

MAYOR OF CHULIE FENNY ANOTHER JERRY SIMPSON

THE Hon. Essex Slay—"the honorable" by virtue of his tenure of the lord high mayorship of Chulie Fenny, Ala.—was perhaps more intensely interested in the mayoralty race Wednesday than any one, other than the three candidates.

The interest betrayed by the Hon. Essex was not remarkable in view of the material advantage, or disadvantage, to himself that was certain to accrue from the manifestation of the voice of the people.

As it was, the result of the election was decidedly not advantageous to the Hon. Mr. Slay, and thereby hangs the tale.

The Hon. Essex, when not safely steering Chulie Fenny through the storms and divers perils which in the course of things beset that municipality, devotes his energies to driving stock across the country to Atlanta and here disposes of his charges. In consequence he spends about half of his time in the city.

It was but natural that the chief executive of Chulie Fenny should have more than passing interest in a race for a similar honor in Atlanta, and as the campaign progressed the Hon. Essex grew enthusiastic and likewise cocksure that a certain candidate would be elected. In fact so confident was he in his judgment that the Hon. Essex Wednesday afternoon bet a big wad of bills, the equivalent of many head of cattle, on this candidates's victory. Then he stationed himself at the first ward poll and began to heel strenuously and vociferously.

Toward nightfall he wearied of this activity and wended his way toward the Peters street stock yards with the intention of purchasing a pair of hose, which he sorely needed, and then resting till the returns should affirm his judgment.

The Hon. Essex entered a dry goods emporium to buy the socks, when a happy thought struck him. He would be game to the end and put up his last cent on the verdict of the race. He made his proposition to the merchant to wager a dime against a pair of socks that his candidate would be elected. The bet was taken.

The Hon. Essex yesterday morning borrowed the price of a ticket to Chulie Fenny from this merchant.

All he had to say was, "Well, me and Jerry Simpson are still in the ring."

STEVENS DOES NOT APPOINT.

He Has No Authority To Name Government Agents for Cotton Statistics.

Commissioner O. B. Stevens has had many letters recently from men in all parts of the state seeking positions as statistical agents for the annual cotton crop. In point of fact Mr. Stevens has nothing to do with these appointments and they are made by the government, to whom all reports will be made.

The purpose of the statistical agents is to gain as accurate figures as possible concerning the amount of cotton ginned in the state. Every county in the state will have an agent and there will be a general agent in charge of them.

OPENED STEADY A LITTLE BETTER

On General Buying Led by the Room Shorts.

SOUTH AND EUROPE SOLD

Market Turned Weak Under Active Public Realizing and Closed 2 to 7 Points Lower—Last Prices Showed Mixed Changes in Stocks.

New York, October 2.—The cotton market opened steady and unchanged to 2 points higher, following which there was a slight further rise on general buying led by the room shorts. The Liverpool market news contained nothing to stimulate investment buying, and the weather chart failed to offer special inducement to the room bulls. Nevertheless, there was little cotton for sale. The south and Europe sold on the advance, as did some of the more determined bear operators. Not long after the call the market suffered a reaction under realizing by commission houses and continued pressure from the bear side. The receipts at the ports were seen to be increasing again, and rumors were circulated to the effect that tomorrow's bureau condition statement for October will give 60 or over. After easing off to 8.82 for January, the whole list stiffened up again soon after the noon hour on reports of damage to open cotton by excessive rains in northern Texas. The ring shorts, however, were about the only buyers on this information, and late in the afternoon the market turned weak under active public realizing, with a fresh demonstration of bear confidence. The selling movement was active, with prices at the close 5 to 7 points lower. Total sales estimated at 250,000 bales.

Review of New Orleans Market.

New Orleans, October 2.—In the market for spot cotton there was but little doing today. The trade is now anxiously awaiting the bureau report of the crop condition averages, which will be issued at noon, Washington time, tomorrow. Sales 950 bales, including 200 to arrive. Quotations unchanged.

In the line of contracts the market was also very slow. Quite a number of leading spirits were absent from the ringside on account of the observance of the Jewish New Year, and those who were in evidence displayed but scant interest in the market, executing a few outside commission orders from time to time and doing an occasional bit of scalping, but showing a disposition to hold off before engaging actively on either side of the account until after tomorrow's bureau statement shall have been received. The fluctuations in prices were but slight, the market at the close showing net losses of 2 to 3 points, compared with last evening's figures.

The Dry Goods Market.

New York, October 2.—There has been a very quiet market today on the spot in dry goods owing to the Jewish holiday, few buyers being in attendance. No other change can be noted for either staple or fancy lines of cotton goods. Silks and ribbons are firm, but demand moderate.

Murphy & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, October 2.—There was indisposition to do much in the early cotton market owing to the uncertainty as to the bureau figures tomorrow. The early foreign advances were without special significance, while the weather in the south was too mild to infuse much animation. The run of crop reports was bullish, but the apparent apathy of bull leaders was somewhat perplexing. Estimates for the coming bureau figures run as low as 55, as against 64 last month. Just what may be the effect on prices if such low figures remain is to be seen. Bulls apparently have the advantage and large exports now in progress, together with nervousness in spinning quarters, held them decidedly. There is much more disposition to buy than to sell and the first flows of low temperature between now and October 25 would be sure to cause a bear stampede. Receipts, while heavy, are far less than at one time feared, and southern correspondents insist in many instances on much

THE DAY IN WALL STREET.

New York, October 2.—There was an increasing tendency to dullness in the stock market today and conditions became semi-stagnant at times. There was an obvious readiness, backed by powerful resources, to support the market at any indication of a break in prices, such as occurred at the opening, but there was an equally obvious disposition to keep advances within moderate limits and not induce any renewed outbreak of extensive speculation. The adoption of this policy in stock market operations by well-equipped forces served to reinforce the admonishing policy of the banks to restrict the speculative employment of funds until after the money outlook has cleared up entirely. The desire to await the result of tomorrow's conference of coal operators and miners' representatives with not such as to make one believe the condition the worst ever recorded. There are too many good spots in the belt for this, still the last showing was a surprise. The report may show equally below popular figures. If by any chance the condition should be over last year, the disappointment will bring about a break in the market, but this should be temporary. Should the figures prove 62 or 63, which is not impossible, prices would break a dollar or two a bale. But on the break one could begin to pick up cotton again. On the other hand, an advance to 9c for January is likely to attract general selling from the south for delivery in New York, and whatever speculation is attracted to the future market is likely to go into March and May. The movement for September was 1,200,000 bales, or about 800,000 bales more than last year.

Stocks—There was further contraction in the volume of business in this market today and the movement in prices were irregular. The monetary situation and the apparent crisis in the anthracite coal strike continued the chief

President Roosevelt was also a restraining influence on speculation. As a consequence, speculation flattened out almost completely, and this development was regarded with genuine relief and satisfaction by the best opinion in the financial world. It is realized that the relief oered to the money market by Secretary relief offered to the money market by Secretary to become dangerous, and the determination is manifest not to allow the resources thus provided to be prodigally used for the purpose of renewed speculative inflation of securities. There are various developments to show also that there are abundant requirements upon New York money resources yet to be met, and that some of the possible sources of relief have been shut off for the present by the possession of the additional facilities afforded by the relapse of reserves against government deposits. There was a deposit at the subtreasury today of $450,000 for telegraphic transfer to New Orleans, and the movement of currency by express is against New York on balance. Today's advance in the Bank of England minimum discount rate and the weekly exhibit of that institution and of the Bank of France are clear indications that no gold is likely to be spared by either of these institutions at present for shipment to New York. Sterling exchange advanced sharply here, and a later decline was due purely to the fact of the postponement of the sailing of tomorrow's steamship for Liverpool. The loss in gold by the Bank of France was some $4,720,000. The Bank of England this week reached over $7,540,000, and that of the Bank of France some $4,720,000. The English institution expanded its loan account $27,675,000, bringing the proportion of reserve to liability down to 44.63 per cent, compared with 53.87 per cent last week, while the French bank increased its note issues $24,120,000 and its loans $34,165,000. Such movement as there was today in the market was confined to a few stocks. The advance in Norfolk and Western on the expectation of an increased dividend caused a sympathetic response in the Pennsylvania group, and a rise in Colorado Fuel was ostensibly based upon the decree of a Colorado court providing for the holding of the annual election. Some of the independent steel stocks followed this movement. The few gains were much curtailed, and last prices showed mixed net changes.

The course of the bond market was halting and irregular. Total sales, par value, $3,552,000.

R. M. Seale & Co.'s General Market Letter.

Atlanta, October 2.—Cotton: The market was nervous and unchanged, but there was an easier tone noticeable. This could be attributed to the disposition on the part of a great many holders to take profits before the bureau report. The lowest bureau in the last fifteen or twenty years was 50.7 in 1896. The report in 1899 was 62.4 and last year 61.4. While every one is looking for a poor showing, we believe the government will hesitate to put the condition at a record figure. Of course the showing may be below 60, but this would be more surprising than 62 or 61. It is not a matter of speculation, but a matter of fact, that reports in New York are

BANK OF ENGLAND'S RATE OF DISCOUNT INCREASED

London, October 2.—The Bank of England's rate of discount was increased from 3 to 4 per cent today.

The advance in the bank rate had in a great measure been anticipated in consequence of the stringency of the money market and the depletion of gold as shown by report of the Bank of England. Consequently its effect on the stock market was moderate. Prices declined fractionally in all the leading departments, under the lead of consols, which lost ⅛ of a point. Opinion in Lombard street for precautionary measures had arrived. Notwithstanding Secretary Shaw's measures, a strong demand for bar gold for the United States continues, and Egypt and South America also are customers.

The general opinion of the leading London bankers tended to the belief that the New York market rightly summed up the situation by lending a stronger tone to securities. All well-informed quarters were practically sure that there would be a rise in the rate and had taken measures accordingly. One of the largest Anglo-American financiers said to a reporter of the Associated Press:

"The raise only brought the rate to its right level. I would not be surprised at a further increase, as the former nominal bank rate was considerably below several transactions occurring during the last few days."

The forthcoming Japanese loan is not likely to seriously affect the gold situation in the United States. The payments are expected to be extended over a considerable period, though as one banker said:

"It will not make money cheaper."

theme of interest. Money on call ranged along an easy level, the bulk of borrowing being between 6 and 9 per cent. London opened lower, but showed a partial recovery during the day, but orders in the London market showed business on the selling side to the extent of about 25,000 shares. The coal stocks were comparatively heavy, both because of a poor showing of earnings by the Reading and Lehigh Valley roads and also on account of impressions that any concessions operators might make at the instigation of federal authority would sooner or later prove vexatious. The firm features of the railway list were New York Central, Pennsylvania and Southern Railway. The transactions in the last named were large, but not accounted for by any developments in the affairs of the company. Louisville and Nashville was again irregular. Among the industrials there were advances in American Cotton Oil, Tennessee Coal and Iron and Colorado Fuel and Iron, also Car Foundry and Pressed Steel Car shares.

Wheat—There was a good demand for cash wheat in Minneapolis. Total sales in Duluth 550,000 bushels. There was an advance in December to over 70c, which was due largely to buying by Armour. Long wheat was for sale, the crowd thought Armour was selling through brokers, although there was a little selling by that house openly. A large c. i. f. and export business was transacted in Duluth, but it was thought that Manitoba offerings will be soon very large, while underselling in American markets. Advances may appear, but we favor selling on hard spots. Export sales at seaboard 150 loads.

Corn—There was an immense trade in this cereal, outside buying orders pouring in from all directions, and while there was tremendous realizing, which was generally thought to be for Armour, in December, the buying was equally large, and the declines that appeared were recovered with heavy buying toward the close, which seemed to be largely for outside account. Cash sales here 150,000 bushels; export sales at seaboard 50 loads. Corn is in a strong position and should any declines appear we favor purchases.

Oats were strong on covering by shorts with some commission house buying, but not much interest was manifested.

Provisions—On the small showing of stocks here and higher hogs at the yard, there was a good demand for all kinds of products, while shorts covered freely in ribs. Patten was a good buyer of January pork. Toward the close values worked off, but on the dips we would favor purchases.

TRADING IN CORN WAS THE FEATURE

Trade Was Large with Tone Strong at Higher Prices.

SHORTS BOUGHT FREELY

Wheat Started Better, but Weakened and Closed Lower—Oats Were About Steady—Provisions Were Strong with an Active Demand.

Chicago, October 2.—Trading in corn was one of the principal features on the board of trade today and considerable strength was manifested in both the grain and provision pits. December corn closed ¾@⅞c higher, December wheat was ⅛c lower, while oats closed ⅛c higher. January provisions closed from a shade lower to 10c higher.

Wheat—The recent bullish sentiment in wheat was in evidence at the opening today, partly due to the smaller receipts with poor grading and unfavorable weather in some sections. Longs bought freely and offerings were somewhat restricted, which caused higher prices early in the day. Toward the close the demand was less pronounced and with more liberal offerings prices weakened. December opened ⅛@¼c lower to a shade higher at 69⅛@69⅝c. Good buying brought an advance to 70⅛@70⅜c, but later a reaction set in and the close was ⅛c lower at 69¼@68⅝c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 616,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 1,365,000 bushels, against 1,242,000 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 802 cars, and receipts here were 122 cars, 3 of contract grade, making a total for the three points of 924, against 1,056 last week and 1,000 a year ago.

Corn was strong and higher with large trade with December holding the attention of traders. Longs bought freely, as did outsiders, influenced largely by reports of the poor prospect of getting contract corn due to the unfavorable weather. Light movement was also a strengthening factor. Shorts were active buyers throughout the day. Considerable realizing took place on the bulge, which caused a slight reaction. December opened ⅛@¼c to ½@⅝c higher at 47⅞@48⅛c, advanced to 48⅜c, and the close was strong and ¾@⅞c higher at 48⅛c. Receipts were 123 cars, 29 of contract.

Oats were fairly active but without any special feature, being influenced largely by the action of corn. There was some buying by shorts, and commission houses also bought moderately. The close was about steady. December opened unchanged at 31⅛c, selling between 31¼@31⅝c and closing ⅛c higher at 31⅛c. Receipts were 110 cars.

Provisions were strong with an active demand for October ribs early by shorts. A good demand existed during the entire session for the entire list with local longs and commission houses taking on large quantities. Strength in corn, small receipts of hogs with higher prices, together with a large decrease in contract stocks for September were all bull factors. January pork closed 10c higher at $15.45, lard a shade lower at $8.75@8.77½ and ribs 2½c higher at $8.17½.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 105 cars; corn, 90 cars; oats, 120 cars; hogs, 13,000 head.

Atlanta Brokerage Co.'s Grain Letter.

Chicago, October 2.—Operations in grain today were quite active and well distributed. The movement of prices reflected considerable firmness, though on the better levels generally thre was considerable selling. In consequence there was a slightly easier start, but this was scon replaced by a strengthening tendency, the result of nervousness among shorts and a disposition to get under cover. Consequently the market was bid up appreciably. The late market was largely professional.

Sentiment in the corn pit continued quite bullish and further efforts were made on the part of certain cliques to put prices higher. There was a good demand for the December option. The crop news was rather less favorable. There were small setbacks from time to time, the result of selling. Conservative people were inclined to the belief that the short interest has been considerably reduced.

Oats opened strong sympathetically with corn, and during the day showed a strong tendency with other cereals. The market generally, however, was a small one with the professionals in control.

Small receipts of hogs and better prices at the yards encouraged support in provisions, and pork was bid up strongly. At the better prices there was some selling.

Murphy & Co.'s Grain Letter.

Chicago, October 2.—Wheat advanced early ¼ to ½c with corn and on buying credited to Armour. When corn eased off somewhat, wheat lost all its advance. The foreign news was bearish, cables indifferent. Paris was up 1½ to 2c. Russian crop estimated at 60,000,000 bushels over last year, but stock in the United Kingdom estimated at 8,000,000 under last year. The Price Current says wheat is coming up evenly. Cash demand here, except from millers, slow. Minneapolis reported large flour sales.

This was another strong day in corn with December the leader. While top prices did not hold, the market maintained considerable strength in the face of profit taking, which was in evidence all day, and at times far exceeded demand. Buying very good at times from all sources. Trade was on a large scale, but there was no one house conspicuous on either side. The movement was light and weather unfavorable.

There was good commission buying of May and December oats and the market has shown strength, but not much feature, and trade rather light. Early trade was largely by brokers and the firmness of the market came through the influence of corn, but later a demand set in from commission houses.

Provisions have been irregular—strong and higher early on local buying, due to strength of corn and bullish hog market, but declining later on rather free offerings from the outside only to advance again under the influence of Patten buying of pork, and then easing off on rather free offerings from the outside. A feature of the market was the advance of 60c in October ribs, but the greater part was lost before the close. January pork and October ribs show about best advances. Hogs at the yards closed firm and higher.

New York, October 2.—Flour fairly active again and firm at unchanged prices. Wheat, spot steady; No. 2 red 74. Opening easier, because of disappointing cables from Liverpool and short selling, wheat experienced a sharp recovery and considerable advance on a jump in corn, fair clearances, smaller northwest receipts, rumored export business and active covering. HERMIS CAPTURES OCEAN VIEW RACE Victory Stamps Colt as Best One of Three Year Olds.

WINS ON HIS OWN COURAGE

His Rider of No Assistance—Hermence Colt Gives Away Pounds of Weight—Huntressa Takes the Place and Igniter Runs Third.

New York, October 2.—L. V. Bell's Hermis, by winning the Ocean View handicap, 1 1-16 miles, at Gravesend today, stamps himself as one of the best 3-year-olds in training, say racing men. The Hermence colt picked up 126 pounds, and, giving away weight from 10 to 26 pounds to his field, won in a gallop by 3 lengths.

Hermis was first to break and showed the way for a half mile, and then gave way to Huntressa, who made the running to the stretch. Hermis, in the meantime, was in and out of pockets all down the back stretch and around the far turn. It was not until the stretch was reached that the colt commenced to run and he simply galloped home, an easy winner on his own courage. Rice, his rider, was practically of no assistance to him. Weather clear and track fair.

TECH ELEVEN PREPARES FOR GAME WITH AUBURN

PAUL BRINSON.
Tech Quarterback Receiving Ball from Center.

SATURDAY week the Techs will meet Auburn in the first football game of the year on local grounds. The contest will give the Tech supporters their first opportunity of getting a line on the ability of the smithies. The game will be of additional interest to Atlantans, as Auburn's strength or weakness will be revealed and an idea of the result of the annual Thanksgiving event with Georgia can be obtained.

Coach Andree has been putting his men through the pace during the week and the team is beginning to assume definite proportions. A tentative line-up has been running the signals and scrimmaging against the scrubs since Monday. It is hardly probable that any important changes will be made in the composition of the team which yesterday was as follows: Center, Markert; guards, Moore and Gregg; tackles, Strauss and Thrash; ends, Shackelford and Wagner; quarter, Brinson; half backs, Cannon and Davies; full back and captain, Young.

The team will average a good 150 pounds and bids fair to be a speedy aggregation. The plays were run yesterday afternoon with snap and ginger, but the interference was ragged. A few days' practice will put the team in much better shape.

Captain Young, who played center last fall, is fullback. He is a heavy man, and is remarkably fast on his feet. He will do the punting and is maintaining an average of thirty yards. Paul Brinson will again run the team from his position at quarter. His work last year was brilliant, and he is now stronger and faster than ever before.

Cannon, a veteran, and Davies will probably take the two remaining positions in the back field.

The line is virtually an unknown proposition, and only a game can test its ability. The center trio are muscular, hefty looking youngsters, and the tackles seem to know their business. The ends are fast and tackle well.

Following is the schedule that Manager Rankin has arranged:

October 11—Auburn at Atlanta.
October 18—South Carolina at Atlanta.
October 25—Georgia at Atlanta.
November 8—St. Albans at Atlanta.
November 15—Davidson at Atlanta.
November 22.—Tennessee at Atlanta.
November 27—Alabama at Birmingham.

CHAMPION CRESCEUS TRIES TO LOWER WORLD'S RECORD

Cincinnati, October 2.—Cresceus, George H. Ketcham's champion trotter, made an attempt to lower the world's record at the opening of the grand circuit meeting in this city today, but failed on acount of a bad track. He covered the mile in 2:08, which is the fastest ever made over the Oakley track.

The crowd in attendance was the largest in the history of the track. The condition of the track prevented fast time from being made, but the sport was very exciting and the betting good. The best contest of the day was the 2:10 trot, which was won by Charley Mac.

Before Cresceus was sent on his exhibition mile he was brought on the track alongside Dan Patch, the king of pacers, and the two went a half mile together amid wild cheering from the spectators. This is the first time that the champion pacer and the champion trotter have ever appeared together in an exhibition.

The first quarter was made by Cresceus in :32 1-4; the half in 1:04 1-2; the three-quarters in 1:36 1-4, and the mile in 2:08 flat. Summary:

She says her son, Adolphus Clemmons, by a former husband, was arrested, fined for disorderly conduct and sent to the public works. When she was able to pay the fine she went to the station sergeant, secured a receipt and an order for release. The authorities at the public works, however, according to her petition, declined to let the boy out, as there were two boys in with the same name. She paid both fines and now wants to recover one of them.

REV. THOMAS G. DAVIS, OF CHATtanooga, Tenn., will preach at the Woodward Avenue Baptist church, both Sunday morning and evening. Mr. Davis is one of the most popular pastors in Chattanooga and good audiences will, doubtless, greet him here.

JOHN W. GAMMEL, OF 252 EAST Fair street, died at Clarksville, Ga., yesterday morning at 8 o'clock, after an illness of several months. Mr. Gammel is survived by his wife and one child, two sisters, Mrs. John Trimble and Miss Mattie Gammel. For a number of years Mr. Gammel was in the employ, as bookkeeper, of the Howard Transfer Company. He was a young man of sterling qualities, and had a host of warm friends. The funeral services will be held at the home of James A. Tiller, 396 Rawson street, at 3:30 o'clock, this afternoon. The interment will take place at Westview cemetery.

GENERAL TREASURER W. D. HUber, Secretary and Treasurer Frank Duffy and John H. Clark, all of Philadelphia, and members of the general executive board of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, the last of the delegates to the recent convention held in this city, left for their homes yesterday.

THE GEORGIA PAPER COMPANY has sold to the Hirshberg Paper Company and the M. H. Eichberg Company its entire stock of goods and its good will for the sum of $14,650.

KAWOOD WHALEN, THE MOROSE youngster who ran away from the county industrial farm last Tuesday night, was caught in Griffin yesterday by Chief of Police P. F. Phelps, who recognized the boy through the description that appeared in The Constitution Wednesday morning. Superintendent Means, who is in charge of the farm, was telegraphed for, and brought the boy back last night.

RECORDER BROYLES YESTERDAY fined Lorenzo Jones $50.75 on the charge of running a place in the city where betting on horse races was allowed. Two men testified that they went to a room where Jones was and there made two bets on horse races over a telephone. The defendant stated that there were only a few of his personal friends in the room, which was not his, and the telephone was used a few times. The witnesses, he stated, were admitted upon their representation that they were friends of the person who owned the room.

VICTOR NUTALL, A WHITE BOY, 11 years of age, was arrested yesterday afternoon and locked up at the police barracks on the charge of stealing a bicycle. The boy lives at West End with his mother. His father, James Nutall, is at work in Augusta. The boy denies stealing the wheel, and says he only rode it off for fun. He is a bright lad for his age.

THE PRELIMINARY TRIAL OF POliceman Blackstone, charged with the shooting of N. H. Bullock two weeks ago, will come up in Justice Bateman's court this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

AT THE MEETING OF THE NATIONal Carriage Builders' Association in Detroit, Mich., yesterday John M. Smith, the well-known manufacturer of Atlanta, was elected one of the vice presidents of the association.

THE REGULAR MEETING OF THE board of health will be held this afternoon at 5 o'clock. It is probable that the session will be a short one.

THEATERS.

At the Grand.

Augustus Thomas, the playwright, has had more successful plays produced than perhaps any American author. Take, for instance, his "Arizona," "In Mizzoura," "Alabama," and "The Soldiers of Fortune," conceded the best plays in recent years. "On the Quiet," the best of latter day comedies, is also from the pen of this prolific author. It will be seen at the Grand tonight and Saturday, when it will have its premier with Thomas W. Ross in the role of Ridgeway of Yale, made famous by William Collier and played by him over 200 nights at the Madison Square theater in New York.

"On the Quiet" is in Mr. Thomas' best vein. It is interesting in story, sparkling in dialogue, and original in wit.

The role which is essayed by Mr. Ross is one that gives him better opportunities than his famous character of Ted Langham in "Soldiers of Fortune," when he scored a notable success at the Savoy theater in New York.

Mr. Ross' role is cut to fit his quaint humor, natural methods and quickness of action.

It is that of Robert Ridgeway, an ambitious Yale student, age 23, who loves a New York girl who is heiress to $20,000,000, more or less, but who is to lose the money if she marries contrary to her brother's wishes, which are not forthcoming.

So they get married "On the Quiet."

The fun is fast and furious, and decidedly so in the second act, which takes place in Ridgeway's room at a New Haven hotel. The last act is decidedly unique, as it shows the party on a yacht under full sail, the deck and cabin being exact reproductions of the private yacht of William Stuyvesant.

The engagement here includes a matinee Saturday.

A new bill at the Grand next Monday and Tuesday will present Klaw and Erlanger's Troubadours and Harry Gilfoil in Harry B. Smith's successful musical comedy, "The Liberty Belles," which has proved a remarkable success at the Madison Square theater in New York. This entertainment is very bright and especially attractive for its dainty novelty and the large number of very beautiful young women who appear in the principal roles.

The Bijou.

There will be just three more performances of the excellent bill at the Bijou this week. The attraction has drawn almost the capacity of the theater at every performance, and there is no let up in the demand for seats for the remaining performances, demonstrating strongly the fact that Atlanta will willingly support the right kind of a show for an entire week.

Twice yesterday large and delighted audiences gathered at the play house and voted by enthusiastic applause the show a good one. There are acts that were selected with a view of introducing different classes of vaudeville, and the people are taking kindly to all of them.

Edwin Keough, the character comedian and actor, and his talented helpmate, Dorothy Ballard, have made quite a hit in their act, and the Adaminis Trio's musical effort is entirely pleasing. All of the other acts make good.

Stuart, the Male Patti, one of the highest salaried artists in vaudeville, will be the special feature of a bill of features that will be the attraction at the new and popular play house next week. Stuart is a remarkably clever character impersonator, and will be remembered by the local theater goers as "Isabella" in "1492." His gowns are the creations of the most exclusive Paris costumers. Will H. Fox, the comedy pianist; The White Tscherkess Trio; Cadieux, the king of the wire, and the headline comedy duo Hines and Remington will contribute numbers, and there will be others.

Negro Shoots Showman.

Richmond, Va., October 2.—While trying to prevent a negro from entering a show without paying the price of admission, Lewis Lutz, foreman of the Sautelle show, exhibiting here today, was shot and fatally injured by a negro. The negro escaped. Lutz is from Port Huron, Mich. It is thought he will not live through the night.

They cover every thing from the material for the most simple walking skirt to the most elaborate, gauze-like costume for "horse show," dinner, and the like. We are going to talk of but a few cloths and skirtings here, however, but we invite you to come in and wander at will through the stock and see the whole show.

NEW POLICEMAN ELECTED BY BOARD

Fourteen Extra Patrolmen Selected at Session Last Night.

SPRING UNDER STATION HOUSE

Board Finds Steam Boiler Almost Under Water, and Appoints a Committee To Make an Inspection and Estimate Cost of Changes.

With a view to getting the police force in readiness to handle the crowds that will attend the fair, the board met last night and elected fourteen extra policemen. The men are chosen only for a term to include the time of the fair, but some of them may be retained permanently as supernumeraries if they show up good officers.

The new men elected were:

J. B. Peyton, A. C. Ozborne, J. A. Means, J. J. Prather, V. M. Barrett, R. R. Jackson, W. T. VanWinkle, L. H. Hilton, W. D. Key, R. L. Veal, T. P. Doyal, J. W. Siske, T. M. Freeman and J. W. Dodd.

They will meet at the police barracks tonight at 8 o'clock to be sworn in by Acting Chairman Johnson.

After the election the board discussed the bad condition of the cellar under the barracks. It was stated by the chief that the cellar was always partially filled with water and the engine, which was worth several hundreds of dollars, was liable to be ruined.

Commissioner Fox stated that he as a committee of one had had the cellar and engine examined by experts and the lowest cost of raising the boiler above high water mark was $400.

The water in the cellar comes from a spring and has given the police department trouble ever since the barracks were built. Several times efforts have been made to keep the cellar dry, but it seems to be an impossibility. The boiler is not in use, as steam is furnished by the Atlanta Steam Company.

Commissioner Johnson moved that a special committee of three be appointed to invite the finance committee of the city council to inspect the cellar and boiler and an appropriation be requested to get the boiler above high tide. Commissioners Fox, DayD aDndDD JDoneDs pointed on the committee.

RAILWAY NOTES.

President Egan Here Yesterday.

President John M. Egan, of the Central of Georgia, spent yesterday in Atlanta, having come from Savannah on one of his periodical visits.

When seen by a representative of The Constitution Mr. Egan stated that his presence in Atlanta was brought about by no crisis in railroad affairs, as he was only attending to railroad affairs.

Mr. Egan is one of the most popular railroad officials in the southeast and has a large number of friends in Atlanta who are always glad to see him when he visits this city.

Spikes and Cinders.

George J. Gould, the well known railroad magnate, is having a private car constructed for his personal use which will, when completed, be one of the handsomest pieces of rolling stock in existence. The car is to be christened the Atlanta, and will be fully in keeping with the city for which it is to be named. The Atlanta will represent an outlay of $150,000. It is to be equipped with "axle light" system of electric lights and fans and will have all other modern improvements.

A personal is going the rounds of the railways journals to the effect that J. L. Love has been appointed traveling passenger agent for the Southern, with headquarters in Atlanta. This news was a greater surprise to the Southern's passenger officials here than to any one else, as they knew nothing of Mr. Love. Although the appointment was first announced several weeks ago, Mr. Love has not yet showed up for duty.

A. G. Jackson, of Augusta, general freight and passenger agent for the Georgia railroad, was in Atlanta yesterday.

The Southern has established a new agency on the Roswell branch of the Charlotte division to be known as Morgans Falls. Despite the fact that the new agency has been established in the interest of a development company, it is said that it does not receive its name from J. Pierpont.

George R. Browder, of Birmingham, division freight agent for the Southern, and J. W. Hunter, of Selma, commercial agent at that point for the same line, were in Atlanta yesterday.

In behalf of the interested lines Chairman Joseph Richardson has announced that excursion rates on the certificate plan have been arranged for members and delegates attending the following meetings: Photographers' Association of Virginia and North Carolina, Danville, Va., October 14-16; Jeruel Baptist Association, Elberton, Ga., October 15-18; Gum Creek Baptist Association, DeSoto, Ga., October 16-21; Southeastern Alabama Medical League, Dothan, Ala., October 21-22; Pentecostal Mission convention, Nashville, Tenn., October 22-27; Wesleyan Methodist annual conference and camp-meeting, Ashburn, Ga., October 22-November 4; state grand lodge No. 7, Good Samaritans, Abbeville, Ga., October 28-30; Olive Branch, grand lodge of F. and A. A. Y. Masons, Birmingham, Ala., October 28-November 3; Seven Stars of Consolation, grand lodge, Fernandina, Fla., November 20-22; Baptist congress, Macon, Ga., November 26-December 1.

NEAR FUTURE MAY BRING ENCAMPMENT TO ATLANTA

Department of Georgia Will Be Well Represented at Encampment of Grand Army Which Meets This Week in Washington.

Atlanta and the department of Georgia, Grand Army of the Republic, will be well represented at the coming thirty-sixth annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, which is to be held in Washington, D. C., October 6 to 11. The city, too, will be especially interested in the encampment for two reasons. One because there will be an informal canvass made for the selection of Atlanta for the encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic in the near future, and also because she supplies in Colonel James P. Averill a candidate for junior vice commander in chief.

In speaking of Atlanta as a possible choice for the encampment next year, Colonel Averill said that he hardly believed it would be possible, as Saratoga was generally conceded to be the favorite. "You see it takes a great deal of preliminary work," began Colonel Averill, "and while I do not think that there is a chance for Atlanta this coming year, I certainly think that the near future will find her selected for the encampment. There was an effort in this direction several years ago, but at that time Atlanta hardly had the facilities for entertaining the Grand Army of the Republic. Now, however, it is different, and I feel sure not only that she could take care of them in the greatest comfort, but that she would throw open wide her doors and every guest would be received with the hospitality for which she is so justly famous. I know, too, that there is not a man in the Grand Army of the Republic who would not be rejoiced to come to this city, both on account of its reputation and its historic associations. You may be sure that all of the Atlantans, and for that matter the entire department of Georgia, will take plenty of care to sow seeds that will eventually result in harvesting a national encampment for this city, and as The Constitution proved so conclusively a short time ago, there would be no doubt as to the reception they would receive.

"Headquarters of the Georgia department during encampment week will be at the Hotel Lawrence, on Pennsylvania avenue, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets, where all visiting comrades of the department are expected to call and register, giving their city address. This is important, particularly in the interest of those desiring to meet friends.

"The headquarters of this department will go by special train via the Southern railway, leaving Atlanta at 1 o'clock p. m. central time, on Sunday, October 5, arriving at Washington at 8 a. m. October 6. All comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic and their friends are cordially invited to take this train. It will be run as the first section of the regular train which leaves Atlanta at 1 p. m. The time of arrival at Washington thus leaves ample opportunity to locate before the crowds arrive. This will be known as a 'special Grand Army of the Republic train.' No pains will be spared on the part of the railroad authorities to make the trip as comfortable and pleasing as possible. The rate of transportation is so exceedingly liberal that all comrades and their friends throughout this department who can will surely take advantage of it."

Atlanta Party To Go.

Up to last night the following Atlantans had booked engagements with Colonel Averill on the special leaving Sunday:

W. M. Scott, department commander; James P. Averill, past department commander; S. A. Darnell, past department commander; J. A. Commerford, member national council; Charles F. Fairbanks, assistant adjutant general; M. C. Wilcox, department representative; William Wilson, past Sons of Veterans department commander; William Walpert, O. H. Hall, past division colonel Sons of Veterans; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Warren, Mrs. James P. Averill, Mrs. Anna Forsyth, Mrs. W. J. Garner, Mrs. Bessie Powell Miller, Miss Annie Powell, Miss Idelle Waldorf, Mrs. Baker, Miss H. Williams, Mrs. Northrop and others.

Candidates for commander-in-chief include: John McElroy, managing editor of The National Tribune, Washington, D. C., for several years managing editor of The Toledo (Ohio) Blade. At the national encampment, a year ago, at Cleveland, O., he was elected senior vice commander in chief by acclamation. Thomas J. Stewart, adjutant general of Pennsylvania, for several years adjutant general of the G. A. R.

John C. Black, of Chicago, former commissioner of pensions, and popularly known as the "Grand Army Orator of the West."

McElroy and Stewart are two of the most popular men in the order, and nearly every grand army man considers each a personal friend. The friends of each are confident of victory, and one of them will probably be elected, although General Black, with the great department of Illinois at his back, will poll a majority of the western votes, and with his many eastern friends, stands a chance to win.

For senior vice commander in chief only one candidate has, thus far, been prominently mentioned—James L. Smith, of Memorial Post, No. 141, Cleveland, O. He was a prominent candidate for the same position one year ago, and the present indications are that he will be the unanimous choice.

Three candidates for junior vice commander in chief have, thus far, been announced, viz: James P. Averill, of Atlanta; D. L. Way, of Florida, and S. F. Shaw, of West Virginia. The contest promises to be a lively one, with the probabilities largely in favor of the former. Colonel Averill's name will be presented by the department of Georgia (which includes the state of South Carolina), and he has the assurance of the support of the departments of Ohio, Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and most of the southern departments, as well as that of a large proportion of the representation from many other states. Colonel Averill came from Ohio to Atlanta in 1886, and since that time has been prominently identified with the business interests of the city. For over a year he was on the editorial staff of The Evening Journal, and then engaged in buying and improving real estate. From 1891 to 1896 he invested large sums of money in building up the most beautiful suburban street of the city—St. Charles avenue. For over three years past he has been connected with the postoffice, and is at present assistant cashier. His many friends in the city ardently wish him success in being elected to the third highest position in the gift of the grand army of the republic.

There are two prominent cities which will offer an urgent invitation for the meeting of the next (the 37th) annual national encampment, viz: San Francisco, Cal., and Saratoga, N. Y. Los Angeles, Cal., and Seattle, Wash., have also been mentioned, but the choice will probably be for Saratoga, as the others are too distant to suit the majority of the members.

The encampment at Washington promises to be one of the most notable in the history of the grand army, and it is the general impression that the attendance will be much greater than ever again. Every hour of the week—October 6 to 11—will be taken up with parades, receptions and functions of every sort, and great preparations have been made for corps reunions at Camp Roosevelt.

DAILY MARKET REPORTS.

earlier marketing of the crop than ever known. Private dispatches claimed too much rain in the southwest and damage in Texas and a forecast of colder weather there made shorts nervous. Port receipts were 47,000, against 32,000. Cables were lower for October and unchanged for other months.

Southern Exchange Cotton Letter.

New York, October 2.—The cotton market today was absolutely featureless. At no time was there any marked disposition to trade on either side, and in consequence prices fell short of expectations from the aggressive crowd, who had predicted a slight rally over night. Liverpool was the leader in dullness and our market exhibited no features worthy of mention. There were scattering purchases at the opening by scalpers, who were satisfied to take exceedingly small profits, thus the market was hampered all day. Port receipts are slightly better than those of last year at this time, but will have no effect upon the market. All eyes are turned to the bureau report. Houston expects tomorrow 14,000 to 15,000, against 13,672 last year; Galveston 13,000 to 14,000, against 8,658 last year; New Orleans 7,500 to 8,500, against 7,447 last year.

Atlanta Brokerage Co.'s Cotton Letter

New York, October 2.—The local cotton future market opened steady in tone today with first prices unchanged to an advance of 2 points, and for some time afterwards displayed a firm undertone, the price level being inclined to advance. The shorts were especially nervous throughout the day, and took advantage of all recessions or signs of weakness on which to reduce their commitments. The buying of the winter months was relatively the best, and the shorts in January deliveries are believed to have been reduced. The commission houses appeared to be properly supplied. There was a genuine disposition to proceed cautiously owing to the report of the government tomorrow and some difference of opinion with regard to the probable showing. The traders were all the more nervous and anxious to ascertain whether they were on the right side or not before making new ventures on an extensive scale. The weather chart was favorable. Offerings throughout the day were comparatively small. The tone at the close was quite firm, but there was some quiet selling by interests who figured that the bureau report tomorrow might be less bullish than generally looked for.

Movement at the Ports.

New Orleans, October 2.—Secretary Hester's New Orleans cotton exchange statement, issued today, covers the monthly movement to the close of September.

Compared with last year it shows an increase for the month in round figures of 557,000 bales, compared with year before last an increase of 384,000 and with 1899 an increase of 145,000.

The amount brought into sight for the month of September was 1,263,820, against 706,326 last year, 879,327 year before last and 1,118,712 same time in 1899.

The statement shows receipts at all United States ports for the month 907,434, against 445,451 last year, 619,986 year before last and 788,428 same time in 1899; net shipments overland 26,154, against 20,186 last year, 22,532 year before last and 63,283 same time in 1899.

Southern mill takings, exclusive of consumption at southern outports, 176,931, against 158,640 last year, 113,737 year before last and 130,356 same time in 1899; interior stocks in excess of amounts held September 1, 154,301, against 82,049 last year, 123,072 year before last and 136,645 same time in 1899.

American mills have taken during the month 284,743 bales, against 231,957 last year, of which 105,004 by northern spinners and Canada overland, against 71,081.

Foreign exports for September were 572,998, showing an increase over the same period last year of 231,497 and 226,025 over year before last.

Stocks at the seaboard and the 29 leading southern interior markets at the close of September were 521,153, against 488,146 last year and 499,688 year before last.

Including stocks left over at ports and interior towns from the last crop, and the number of bales of the new crop brought into sight during September, the supply to date is 1,478,894, against 1,066,013 last year and 1,001,861 the year before.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, October 2.—All markets have been quiet pending the publication of the bureau report tomorrow. Such minor fluctuations as have occurred are due to the desire on the part of most operators to be without any interest at the moment. The report is so generally expected to be bad that the short interest is probably smaller than for many years. Private investigation of the prospects show a continuing improvement since the last bureau report, but these views at present have no influence on the trade. They remember the effect of the bureau report last season, when private investigation pointed to a yield about equal to the ultimate crop, and they are not acting upon the gradual change in crop accounts during the past month.

H. & B. Beer's Cotton Letter.

New Orleans, October 2.—Liverpool advices were about as expected, and our market in sympathy opened 1 to 2 points higher, advanced 2 to 3 points subsequently on the heavy rains in Texas and fears of colder weather. However, the continuation of realizing before the bureau report occasioned a break of 7 points from the top later, but when easy some fresh buying came in, causing steadiness, making the net loss 2 to 3 points on the day. For the past five days an immense amount of realizing has taken place, even though the general opinion is that the average condition of the bureau will be about 60 per cent. It is also thought that irrespective of what the figures may be, that large quantities of cotton will be forced in and that prices must naturally seek a lower level temporarily. Many claim that the weather on the whole has been favorable for the crop during the past ten days, and that with a late frost the present top crop will add materially to the yield. If the bureau is 60 per cent it may be a hard matter to hold the market for the moment, but should it confirm the unfavorable reports disseminated and be under the above figures, the chances are that values will eventually sell higher. It must be remembered that with 61 per cent last year the growth was only 10,550,000 bales; therefore, as the acreage is practically the same this year, a like condition would indicate a crop on the bureau of about 10,400,000, and as it is generally believed that the consumption of American will be over 11,000,000 this season, the report, under the circumstances, would really be bullish with a condition of 60 per cent.

Coffee and Sugar.

New York, October 2.—Coffee futures opened barely steady and unchanged to 5 points lower, this in response to a Hamburg decline and liberal offerings by bears. In the afternoon a private cable stated that the Santos receipts, to be reported tomorrow, would reach only 33,000 bags, or very much below what the trade had looked for, and prices jumped sharply on covering and fair active buying by bull leaders, the net advance at one time reaching 5@10 points. But the bears at the close sold the market down 5 points, final figures being net unchanged to 5 points higher and the tone barely steady; sales 32,000 bags; October 5; November 5.05@5.15; December 5.15@5.25; January 5.25@5.30; March 5.40@5.50; May 5.55@5.65; July 5.70@5.80; August 5.75. Coffee, spot Rio quiet; No. 7 invoice 5 5-16; mild quiet; Cordova 8@11½.

Sugar, raw firm; fair refining 3; centrifugal 96-test 3½. Molasses sugar 2¾. Refined steady.

New Orleans, October 2.—Sugar strong; open kettle 2½@3 3-16; open kettle centrifugal 3@3½; centrifugal yellow 3½@4¼; seconds 1¼@3¼. Molasses dull; centrifugal 5@15. New sirup 35@50.

The Metal Market.

New York, October 2.—Copper was dull and unchanged; lake electro 11.75@11.75; standard at 10.75@11; electrolytic 11.45@11.55, and casting 11.40@11.50. London advanced 1s 3d, spot closing at £52 7s 6d and futures at £52 10s.

Tin in London was 12s 6d lower at £115 for spot and £113 10s for futures. Locally the metal was weak and lower, spot closing at 28.20@25.40.

Lead was quiet, closing at 4¼ here and at £10 15s in London.

Spelter was quiet at 5¼ in the local market, but advanced 2s 6d in London, where it closed at £19 2s 6d.

A cut of 20c in the price of wire nails from $3 to $5 in the price of wire and $5 per ton in the prices of galvanized iron and steel sheets reported from Pittsburg, had a disturbing influence in the local market. The English iron markets were a shade lower with Glasgow closing at 58s 1d and Middlesboro at 53s 4½d. Iron locally, however, was dull, and while quotations remained unchanged, they were largely nominal. No. 1 foundry northern is quoted at 23@25; No. 2 foundry northern 22@23; No. 1 foundry southern find No. 1 foundry southern soft 22@23.

St. Louis, October 2.—Lead steady at $4@4.02½. Spelter $5.25.
